Five Die In Area Mishaps

A father drowned before the eyes of his horrified wife; another was crushed to death at a loading dock; two men were killed in grinding crashes in the north county, and a man died under a train in Brisbane, over the weekend.

The dead included;

Alvin L. Cole, 44, Millbrae, drowned in Pacifica;

Ronald M. Fennema, 1200 South Norfolk Street, San Mateo, killed at a Daly City loading dock;

R. B. Grigsby, 47, of San Francisco, killed in an auto plunge over an embankment off Skyline Boulevard;

Lester Simpson, Brisbane, killed by a train.

Beare was killed Sunday in a high-speed auto crash on Junipero Serra Freeway near Daly City.

Another motorist told Highway Patrolman Thomas E. Guinane that Beare had passed him at about 100 miles an hour just before the accident.

Witnsses told the officer that Beare, a parking lot attendant, was southbound at 8:10 p.m. when another car moved into his lane ahead of him. The officer said it was a legitimate move on the part of the other driver, whose turn blinker was on.

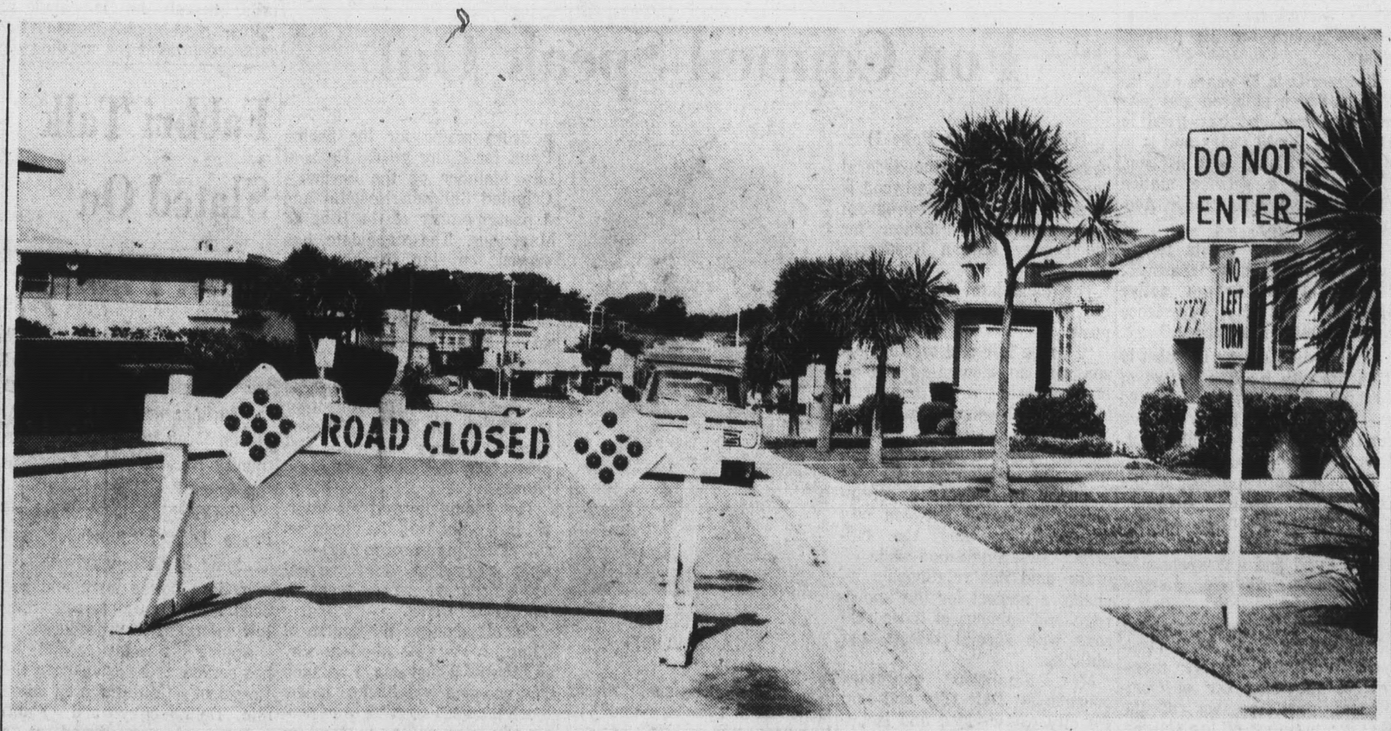
Beare apparently took evasive action by turning into the off-ramp to Sullivan Street, the officer said, but he lost control of his late-model sports coupe and it slammed against a pillar beneath the Washington Street overcrossing. Guinane said the auto struck with such force that it "wrapped itself around" the bridge support. Beare was pinned in the wreckage.

The victim was dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital.

Beare, the son of a San Francisco policeman, leaves a wife, Leslie, and two sons, ages 2 and 4.

The Millbrae man drowned in Pacifica Sunday afternoon while attempting to rescue his son and another youth from the heavy surf at Linda Mar Beach.

Alvin L. Cole, 44, of 1374 Manzanita Drive, an insurance executive, disappeared in the surf 50 yards north of the Wander Inn Restaurant about 3:15 p.m. as his wife, Gloria, looked on in horror from the beach.



BARRIER DISPUTE — Residents of Dorchester Drive in Daly City won a minor victory Monday when the city council ordered the removal of a wooden barrier and one-way signs installed in front of the Carl Hilsz home at 25 Dorchester Drive. The barrier and signs were installed to cut down on the amount of through traffic between Southgate Avenue and Alemany Boulevard after a small child was seriously injured there last December.

GEORGE FEIST
. . . Rescues Boys

Witnesses said Cole and another man, George Feist, 1227 Escalero, Pacifica, went into the water to assist 12-year-old Kelly Cole and another youth, Mark Charles, 13, after the boys became trapped in the undertow 25 yards from shore.

Feist said he reached the boys first, and pulled them to safety, then spotted Cole floating face down in the water near the spot where the youths had been.

Cole disappeared before Feist again reached the spot.

Pacifica firemen reportedly spotted the drowned man's body about 300 yards south of the location a few minutes later, but Still a Gap!

New Traffic Control Plan for Dorchester

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The Daly City Council decided to tear down an unsightly wooden street barrier and one-way traffic signs on Dorchester Drive Monday and initiate a whole new traffic control system for the ara.

But the action did little to bridge the gap between residents of the normally quiet neighborhood in the city's Westlake section.

Since the controversial barrier and one-way signs were installed last December the residents have been almost equally split down the middle over whether to let the new system stand or protest it and ask the council to let the street revert bck to its former nature — a heavily traveled throughway between Southgate Avenue and Alemany Boulevard.

And while some homeowners applauded the new system (three-way stop signs at Dorchester and Westbrook) others voiced dissatisfaction with it, claiming the traffic flow would again substantially increase, thus causing a safety hazard to children.

City Mgr. Edward Frank and Mayor Bernard Lycett explained the new system would be put on a trial basis for three weeks starting March 18. A public hearing on April 22 would determine if the alternate system was working.

Councilman Ed Dennis said the stop signs and street buttons installed on the corner of Southgate and Dorchester "is only a first step.

"We will also have increased police activity in the area to show (motorists) we mean business," Dennis said.

Homeowner Ed O'Neil, 81 Dorchester Drive, speaking for a group of residents on the south end of Dorchester, "went on record" as "not withdrawing our request for a no left turn sign off Southgate (onto Dorchester) only postponing it."

O'Neil and several other residents want the traffic to return to "normal" on the disputed street and an accurate count taken for later study.

Frank informed the more than 55 persons attending the meeting that a traffic count would be taken "seven days a week throughout the length of the new trial system."

Another homeowner, Miss Marion Magee said the "short term solutions for long range problems" the council is arriving at "is not right."

Miss Magee said the council's action on solving Dorchester Drive's traffic plight will throw the problems to other streets in the neighborhood.

What the city is banking on is the opening of the new Cabrillo Freeway in the not-too-distant future.

Candidates At Council

Candidates in the upcoming Pacifica City Council election will be guests at Thursday's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Mgr. Bernie Lake said today.

The seven council candidates will be given an opportunity to present their platforms, and a question and answer period will be included in the program, Lake said.

The meeting will be held at the High Iron Restaurant.

City Planners Refuse Sign Near Airport

By DON GRIERSON

South San Francisco planning commissioners denied an application from Bell Electrical Signs, Inc., for a use permit to "relocate and enlarge" a billboard sign on Airport Boulevard Monday.

Commissioners denied the permit, upon the recommendation of City Planner Daniel Pass, after noting the present sign is an "appurtenant sign," instead of a billboard, under the use permit presently in effect.

"Establishment of a new billboard in the Airport Boulevard commercial strip, where there is a large number of existing appurtenant signs, would tend to create confusion and disorder," Pass said.

"Also, when the Bayshore Freeway is declared a 'landscaped freeway,' the city would probably be required to compensate the applicant for the removal of his sign," according to the planner.

Pass and members of the planning commission have long been concerned over the number of billboard signs in the area, about 36, and several sign permit applications have been denied in recent months.

3,000 Sign Petition

No Pupil Shifts Or Split Sessions Due Next Term

By WILL E. THOMAS

Trustees of the Jefferson High School District early Tuesday scrapped plans to open the new Serramonte High School on the Westmoor campus for the 1968-69 school term, but rejected through silence a request by some 3,000 petitioners that boundary re-alignments be delayed.

In another decison on boundaries, trustees at 12:24 a.m. Tuesday, agreed that the area west of Skyline, from the northern tip of the Palisades, south to "the water tank," or wherever the present busing schedule begins, would be in the Westmoor attendance area.

However, it was specified by Al Teglia, who made the motion, that the residents of this area would have the option of attending the new Serramonte High School if they desired.

The Jefferson trustees lost a good share of its audience of some 450 persons shortly after 12:13 a.m., when a silent exchange of glances surrounded Board of Trustee Chairman Ray Milton's request for a decision on Westlake area residents' pleas for a delay in boundary change plans.

Dr. Sanford A. Marcus, spokesman for a so-called citizens' steering committee made up of Westlake parents opposing boundary re-alignments, presented trustees with a stack of several petitions, said to contain the names of about 3,000 residents.

Marcus, of 40 Northgate Avenue, told trustees the purpose of the petitions — first circulated at a meeting of residents at the Fernando Rivera Elementary School last Thursday night — was to indicate "our disapproval of the performance of the board in brushing aside" a February 13 request for a 60-day delay in boundary actions.

Members of the Westlake community thought the additional time after presentation of detailed boundary proposals by Supt. Ed Morgan in January was necessary to "air problems properly."

Marcus pointed out the steering committee's original objections to the boundary proposals because of its busing aspects remained important, but had become of lesser importance with recent prospects that students would have double-sessioned education next year when both Serramonte and Westmoor students would be sited on the Westmoor campus.

Marcus said he and those for whom he spoke felt Serramonte plans were being pushed to completion too rapidly, and he urged the Serramonte school be scrapped entirely, feeling expansion of Westmoor to be more desirable.

Marcus charged the February vote on Serramonte and the establishment of new boundaries was merely "window dressing," that the decision was made in advance by trustees.

The boundary re-alignments call for taking away from the Jefferson High School and busing them to Serramente students living in the Cow Palace region of Daly City; and shifting from Westmoor to Serramonte the Westlake area north of Alemany.

'Morgan Is Outstanding Educator'

Trustee Elio Fontana, veteran member of the Jefferson High School District board of trustees, Monday night noted that District Supt. Edward Morgan is "known as one of the greatest educators in the state."

The comment came during the five-hour board meeting in Daly City's Westmoor High that centered primarily around boundary changes and establishment of the new Serramonte High School.

Morgan has been criticized for failing to "yield" or "unbend" in pushing for changes in attendance areas that will lead to extended busing to Serramonte — a school not yet built, but time-scheduled to open in September of 1969.

Morgan has been criticized by a Westlake citizens' steering committee headed by Dr. Sanford Marcus.

Marcus at two public meetings has suggested Serramonte, which he claims has been misnamed, be known as the Morgan Memorial High School.

Fontana said he had no objections to the Marcus proposal, stating Morgan is "known as one of the greatest educators in the state."

Marcus said he "agreed" that Morgan is "an outstanding educator" and one of the "nicest, most affable guys" he knows.

"My quarrel," said Marcus, "is with Ed Morgan, the politician."

Homeowners Claim Flood Damage

Thirteen homeowners in the Westpark section of Daly City have filed claims totalling more than $30,000 for flood damage suffered last January during heavy rains which drenched the area.

The city council has directed City Atty. Atty. Albert Polonsky to look into the matter concerning settlement of the claims — which range from $150 to $5,000.

City Engineer Arthur Reschke said the city is already modifying several storm sewers in the Westpark area to prevent a recurrence of the flooding.

Last January 30, heavy rains deluged the city and water backed up in the storm drains on Westpark Drive, inundating the homes and causing extensive damage, according to the claimants.

James M. Poulos, of 36 Westpark Drive, said the water rose in his basement more than eight inches above the garage floor.

Another resident of the affected area, William Johns, of 24 Westpark Drive, listed a $4,700 loss to personal property as a direct result of rainwaters flooding his garage, social room and yard "under 18 inches of water."

Reschke said cost of modifying the sewer system is not expected to exceed $5,000 and will go out to bid "very soon."

3 D.C. Candidates Look at Issues

The Daly City election campaign turned decisively better today with announced council candidates pecking at the issues and stating their own qualifications for the two posts up for grabs on April 9.

Daly City businessman and member of the planning commission McRobert Stewart in announcing his candidacy said he was running "because I believe I can give the people the representation they deserve."

Stewart, 40, is a lumberman with the White Lumber Company and a native of Auburn, Nebraska. He was educated at the James Denham and Balboa high schools in San Francisco and is a veteran of World War II with the Marines.

A resident of Daly City for the past eight years, Stewart lives with his wife, the former Nanda Sereni, at 8 Castlemont Avenue.

Stewart is a member of the Community Resources Commission, which deals with Boys' Ranch in Glenwood (under the jurisdiction of the County Probation Department); Westlake Improvement Association; former chairman of the Architectural Committee (and now serving second term on the board of directors); member Daly City-Colma Lions Club; South San Francisco Elks Lodge 2091; Daly City Toastmasters Club 1881; Cypress Hills Men's Club and is associated with the Automotive Machinists' Union Local 1305.

The candidate said a councilman is obligated to represent all the people and should not be beholden to special interests.

"I have servtd on the city's planning commission for the past eight years — through some of the vital years of Daly City's phenominal growth — and I believe that a common sense approach to the problems that we face is what is needed on the city council.

"It is not common sense to allow rapid transit (Bay Area Rapid Transit District) to buy property in the city and then take it off the tax rolls without first having some guarantee of control or design. It is not common sense to allow a car wash to be built across from an elementary school. It is not common sense to deny a left turn off Alemany Boulevard and make a one-way street out of a cross-town artery. It is not common sense to also deny the city an extra off-ramp from Junipera Serra Freeway at School Street," Stewart said.

He explained "these are just a few of the problems that I blieve could have been handled more intelligently. My candidacy is based on my belief that I can offer intelligent and common sense answers to our problems and that I can faithfully and properly represent the people of Daly City."

CATHERINE (CATHY) SMALLWOOD said Daly City needs a broader based, more representative City Council "and I can help bring this hope into reality."

Mrs. Smallwood, a widow, lives with her mother and two daughters in Daly City. She attended Ohio State University, San Francisco City College and the University of California at Berkeley. She has also been awarded an honorary life membership in the California Congress of P-TA for outstanding work with young people.

Among the organizations Mrs. Smallwood is associated with is the Second Baptist Church of Daly City; past chairman of the Community Inter-Action Thru You (CITY); member of the Board of Directors of San Mateo County PACE Program (Project to Achieve Creativity in Education); served on the recent Daly City General Plan Residential Committee; served on Town Hall Planning Committee; organized the Youth Job Fair in Daly City during the summer of 1967.

She has been a news columnist for a major Bay Area newspaper, and worked as a pur-

5 Die in County Weekend Mishaps

A Coast Guard helicopter crew searched for the body until nightfall, but the search was unsuccessful.

A young San Mateo father of two was crushed to death on Sunday when a huge trailer slipped from its blocks while being "hooked up" to a tractor outside the Quality Distribution Company plant in Daly City, police say.

Ronald Fennema, 22, of 1200 South Norfolk Street, was killed when he was pinned between a concrete loading platform at the distribution plant and a loaded 27-foot semi-trailer.

The driver of the trailer, Terry Williams, 24, of 515 South Norfolk Street, San Mateo, was the victim's best friend.

He told police the victim was last seen entering the building and he had no idea why Fennema was standing behind the trailer as it was being attached to the tractor.

When the trailer slipped off the blocks, Williams got out to see what happened and saw the victim pinned between the platform and trailer.

Fennema, who was a manager for the Colonel Sanders Chicken Company, had been working at the recently renovated distribution center on Station Avenue in Daly City at the time of the accident.

Authorities at Mary's Help pronounced Fennema dead on arrival shortly before 7 p.m. Sunday.

Fennema was a member of the Church of the Latter Day Saints. A native of Salt Lake City, Utah, he moved to California two and a half years ago and two months ago to San Mateo

Surviving are his wife, Shannon; a 17-months-old son, Ronald Fennema, and a daughter, Becky, 3, all of the family home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Fennema; and three brothers, Gordon, Dewayne and Dennis, all of Salt Lake City.

Funeral services will be conducted under the auspices of the LDS church in Salt Lake City. Visitation at the Crippen and Flynn Chapel, 400 Woodside Road, Redwood City, will be conducted this evening until 9 p.m.

The San Francisco man was killed and another was injured Saturday night when a car went off of Skyline Boulevard near Hillsborough and hit a tree.

Investigators learned that a third man, thought at first to have been in the car, had been let out only minutes earlier when he objected to the way the auto was being driven.

Killed was R. B. Grigsby, 47-year-old machinist. Injured and taken to County General Hospital for treatment of a minor head injury was Lorenzo C. Smith, 35. He was then dismissed.

Witnesses told Highway Patrolman C. A. Mendonca that a southbound sedan driven by Grigsby swerved off of the roadway, shot between some trees and a guardrail, and disappeared over an embankment. Smith told Mendonca that he had been asleep on the rear seat at the time of the accident and that the last he knew a man identified only as W. Y. Williams was in the front seat with Grigsby.

Highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies, ambulance attendants and citizen volunteers searched the area for some time without finding any trace of the missing man. Mendonca said Williams made his way home about 4½ hours later. He explained that when he objected to the way Grigsby was driving, Grigsby ordered him out of the car. He said he caught a bus ride back to San Francisco.

Smith told the officer that he, Grigsby and Williams had been drinking during the day.

Southern Pacific commute trains were held up for more than an hour early today after a man was struck and killed by a southbound passenger train in Brisbane.

Auto traffic on nearby Bayshore Freeway was also jammed because of rubbernecking on the part of motorists.

The victim was tentatively identified by Coroner's Investigator Robert Cawley as Lester Simpson, 54-year-old transient, whose only known address was General Delivery, Brisbane.

Cawley said Simpson had been walking along the tracks with another man, identified only as Joe Melindez, at 6:15 a.m. when Simpson dropped a bag of groceries. Simpson sat down on the tracks and was putting the dropped articles back in the bag when he was struck by the train, the investigator said.

JOE LEWKOWITZ

Treasurer Is Seeking Re-election

Incumbent City Treasurer Joseph (Joe) Lewkowitz has actively served on various civic affairs groups for the past 25 years.

Lewkowitz is 58 years old, father of seven children and nine grandchildren, he has lived in Daly City for 30 years and is in partnership with his son, Charles, in a service station business at 199 Eastmoor Avenue in Daly City.

The candidate points to his past record as city treasurer: "Daly City needs an active treasurer and my experience qualifies me for the office."

When he took over the post in 1960 the city had a deficit of $300,000. This has been erased and the city now has a reserve fund of more than a million dollars, Lewkowitz said.

He is a board member of the Red Cross; United Crusade; City Fund chairman for the March of Dimes; Cancer Fund; Heart Fund and a co-sponsor of the Police Athletic League (PAL).

Lewkowitz is a past president of the San Mateo Gasoline Dealers' Association; Charter member of the Chamber of Commerce; past member of the F.O.E.; member of the California Treasurers' Association; Municipal Finance Officers' Association; Honorary member of the Daly City-Colma Lions Club and former member of Local 886, AFL Teamsters 278; Electricians No. 6 and a present member of the Musicians Local No. 6; Foresters of San Mateo County; K. of C. Marion Council in Daly City; Senior Citizen Club of Daly City; International Platform Association.

Gust Fails To Appear, Forfeits Bail

Pacifica Councilman Nick Gust failed to appear in Muncipal Judge Paul Hupf's North County courtroom yesterday to answer a drunk charge, thus forfeiting his $35 bail.

Gust was arrested outside International Joe's restaurant and lounge at the Skyline Shopping Center earlier this week following an alleged argument with a bartender and two police Daly City police officers.

According to police, they received a report that Gust was inside the bar arguing with a bartender. Off-duty Officer Don Cubic, also a patron of the bar, tried to quiet the councilman and Gust allegedly left the bar and became more argumentive and abusive, police said, with officers outside.

Gust was booked into the Daly City jail on a drunk charge and released on $35 bail.

'Fun' Night Is Planned In San Bruno

Events of the evening will include games, refreshments, and prizes — all at a nominal cost.

An auction for various prizes will highlight the midnight closing.

Proceeds from the event will benefit the Scholarship Fund Courtesy Award and the Community Improvements Fund.

Trustees Reject Requests For Boundary Plan Delay

Original plans called for busing west-of-Skyline pupils to Serramonte, but in accepting the boundary proposals in February, trustees left that area "open" for reconsideration.

Tuesday's decision was a compromise.

What the steering committee sought, Marcus explained, was the "feeling" that the board "is our board" and that the citizens be allowed to participate in the "deliberations that vitally affect us."

"The board has not been responsive" in this matter, he charged.

Superintendent Morgan, Marcus observed, has been defending the boundary-Serramonte plan as though "his own personal prestige" was involved.

Dr. Marcus said he was "incensed" over double-session prospects.

He called siting of Serramonte students to Westmoor this year "ridiculous."

In relation to racial balance aspects of the boundary shuffle, Marcus said many minority "interests" with whom he has talked are "quite upset" over the fact that their children would be separated from their friends at Jefferson High School.

He reiterated previous statements that there is no real racial problem in Daly City. The steering committee has based its objections strictly on the cost, time, and safety factors of busing.

Dr. Marcus again suggested that members of minority races who feel they must attend a different school to receive equal education should be allowed to do so.

He also suggested that teachers might be rotated.

Marcus said that his group "at this time" was "content" merely to submit the petition. However, he asserted, the committee has learned of "legal avenues open to us" if board action is not satisfying to the group.

He declined to disclose the details, though he indicated a "time road-block" would be centered around the wording of the law under which the plan was implemented.

He said two attorneys had indicated the committee could ask for interpretation of the law by the courts, "as a last resort."

In the matter of double, concurrent or staggered sessions to accommodate the Serramonte school at Westmoor, trustees chose to reject all three in favor of a "Plan A" — which was not opening in the fall of 1968 — Jefferson and Westmoor remaining on an "as is" basis.

Louis J. Martin, director of special services in the district, and Serramonte principal-elect, said he saw no advantages in "Plan A," instead some five disadvantages..

Three D.C. Candidates For Council Speak Out

chasing agent for the federal government. Mrs. Smallwood is presently employed as program and research co-ordinator for the County Human Resources Commission.

The candidate explained her qualifications for the council post:

"I am a fair and tactful person with an open mind and an absolute belief in the democratic process. I am willing to give the necessary time to the important position of councilwoman and I understand the importance of an on-going, continuing relationship between city administration and the citizens," Mrs. Smallwood said.

She said this relationship includes a respect for the knowledge and opinions of those persons with special talents and abilities.

Mrs. Smallwood expressed concern for Daly City and said the city was divided and isolated.

"We are isolated in terms of transportation," she said. "We need to have a better link with San Francisco, and BARTD will only partially fill this need.

"We need to have some really usable connection to the south — with (other parts of) San Mateo County and Santa Clara County where there are growing numbers of jobs. We vitally need some form of transportation within Daly City which will help unite this city," she said.

The candidate said she has an increasing awareness of the "profound human problems involved in peoples of diverse races and backgrounds living together in harmony and working for a common purpose."

Toward this end Mrs. Smallwood proposed the creation of a municipal Human Relations Committee whose function would be somewhat different than most such organizations.

"Our commission should move actively into the area of sponsoring meetings, discussions, civic seminars and positive programs to bring our citizens togtther. It should not become simply a place for the lodging of grievances, though this, too, would be one of its jobs," she said.

CATHERINE SMALLWOOD

Youth and its problems concerns the candidate. She said while attending Ohio State and San Francisco City College and UC she attempted to gain some understanding of young peoples' problems and their relationship to the larger community.

"We need to actively engage our youth. Too often they feel alienated and estranged from the adult world which does not want them and ignores them until they do something wrong," Mrs. Smallwood pointed out. "A positive program is needed to bring young people into dialogue with the adults. I favor formation of a Youth Council which would act as a voice of the young in our city."

KENNETH A. SULLIVAN said his aim was to work for the community "for the good of all concerned" in his opening campaign statement.

Sullivan, who has lived with his wife, Mary, at 18 Dorchester Drive for the past 16 years, came to the Bay Area from Seattle, Wash. in 1935.

He has worked as an automobile mechanic and was a member of the Automotive Machinists Union Local 1305 and later Local 960 (auto salesmen).

Sullivan is presently employed at Adolph Gasser, Inc. in San Francisco as a commercial and industrial photographic supply salesman.

He is a member of the F&AM Mission Lodge 169; California Bodies Scottish Rite, A.A.O.N.M.S. Islam Temple; Islam Temple Band; and was also a drum major for the Shrine Band for many years. He is a Life Member of the Shriner's Crippled Children Hospital and a past member of the Ring 38 Magicians. The candidate has served on the Architectural Committee for the Westlake Improvement Association and is affiliated with the San Francisco Aquarium Society.

Sullivan's hobbies include gardening (His home was selected for the first private home tour benefitting Our Lady of Mercy Church), fishing and music. He plays both the piano and saxaphone.

The candidate said his interest in politics was the direct result of talking to some 2,000 persons regarding the current one-way street arrangement on Dorchester Drive.

"Realizing that the course of doing away with the one-way street was a just one, I persued this end and was backed up by more than 900 signatures of people who were willing to stand up and be counted," Sullivan said.

Sullivan acknowledged the support he has gained in the Dorchester neighborhood and thanked his supporters for their efforts.

He said he hoped to "take on issues and pursue them to a successful conclusion, one of which is the Residency Requirement, which stipulates if you work for the city you must live here.

"I believe we should make it easier for the people to work here — not harder. And we deserve the best men," the candidate said.

"My aim will be to work for the good of all concerned. Some of those areas which need immediate attention include transportation, traffic, rapid transit, housing employment, recreation, retirement problems and tax relief," Sullivan said.

McROBERT STEWART

Adult Course Experiment

Crestmoor High School has opened art facilities to the public for a twelve weeks studio painting course as an experiment in adult education. Robert Wait, art department chairman, announces that the course is offered on a non-profit basis to adults in the Crestmoor community each Tuesday from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Gregg MacGibbon, Crestmoor art teacher will be the instructor in the twelve class sessions. He is a graduate of the San Jose State College Art Department plus private art schools in New York.

This course includes offerings in drawing and painting. The emphasis will be on the rudiments of design and the manipulation of color in terms of expressionistic painting, whether it be abstract or realistic, oil, acrylic or watercolor. It began March 5.

Wait stated that he hopes that this class will meet with public interest and expand the educational concept at Crestmoor High School.

KENNETH SULLIVAN

Fabbri Talk Slated On Law, Public

South San Francisco Police Chief John Fabbri will speak at Mercy High School auditorium in Burlingame at 11:15 a.m. March 15 on the subject "Community Relations and Law Enforcement."

Chief Fabbri, a member of Peace Officer Standards and Training, is a strong advocate of a modern police force and has been instrumental in reforming law enforcement procedures.

Among his many credits, he has served as an advisor on the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime and participated as a consultant for studies made for the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

He has been a member of the San Mateo County Juvenile Justice Commission for the past five years and is Past-President of the San Mateo County Law Enforcement Association.

Miracle Coating Eliminates House Painting

American United Chemical Company has developed a remarkable product for exterior walls that virtually eliminates outside painting for many years to come and is factory guaranteed for 15 years. This product called GUARD-COTE, combines the long-lasting properties of fiberglass, asbestos, mica and perlite to make a wall surface that resists all climate extremes.

Throughout the Country

School boards have found textured coatings so economical and lasting over the past several years that they are now specifying this type of material for school buildings.

Many thousands of textured coating applications have been made on homes, commercial and industrial buildings throughout the world, and these buildings have remained in perfect condition after more than 15 years exposure in all weather extremes.

The United States Government and large corporation, such as Shell Oil Company, Pacific Telephone Company, and American Telephone and Telegraph Company, are using textured coatings. This remarkable exterior surfacing provides waterproofing, insulation, and beauty, far outlasting any ordinary paint.

GUARD-COTE comes in 12 beautiful decorator colors—and does not change the structural lines of the building. Actually it adds beauty to any home or structure and increases its value.

Water-proofs, Insulates, Fire Retardent

GUARD-COTE has the additional advantages of waterproofing and through the use of Silicones, a modern day scientific advance, a water repellent "blanket" envelops the entire building so that no moisture can penetrate and damage the interior of the home. Through the use of fiberglass and perlite, highly efficient insulating material, the building becomes cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter.

Factory Guaranteed

Every GUARD-COTE job is registered and factory guaranteed for 15 full years material replacement against chipping, flaking or peeling. It fuses itself to the wall surface to a thickness 15 to 20 times that of normal paint.

No Obligation

Applications of GUARD-COTE are being made in this area by MORSE BROTHERS, exclusive applicators of this remarkable product for Northern California. Free information on how easily you may have GUARD-COTE applied at low bank terms with no down payment may be obtained by calling collect PLaza 6-1341 (24-hour service) or by mailing coupon below.

Demos Still Lead in County

There are 3,829,243 registered Democratic voters in California, 2,934,061 Republicans, 107,263 American Independent Party members, and 105,100 Peace and Freedom voters, according to the latest statistics.

In San Mateo County, political opinion is nowhere as evenly divided as it is in San Mateo City itself.

With a total of 35,484 registered voters, the city has only three more Democrats than it has Republicans. Or only three less Republicans than it has Democrats, whichever way you wish to look at it. The figures are 16,958 (D) to 16,955 (R).

County-wide, Democrats outnumber Republicans by 117,111 to 96,731, and they outnumber Republicans in all but seven cities in the county.

The seven cities where Republicans outnumber Democrats are: Atherton, 3,327 to 898; Burlingame, 7,414 to 5,465; Hillsborough, 3,701 to 938; Menlo Park, 7,285 to 4,946; Portola Valley, 1,338 to 591; San Carlos, 6,638 to 5,652, and Woodside, 1,612 to 696.

Registrations ran the other way in these cities: Belmont, 4,667 Democrats to 4,434 Republicans; Brisbane, 972 to 328; Colma, 102 to 49; Daly City, a whopping 14,854 to 6,624; Half Moon Bay, 740 to 443; Millbrae, than two to one with 7,098 Democrats and 2,993 Republicans; Redwood City, 12,256 to 9,361; San Bruno, with 9,241 to 4,766; South South San Francisco, with 11,299 Democrats and 3,973 Republicans.

The county's unincorporated area voters follow this trend also with 14,902 Democrats registered and 11,411 Republicans.

Of the County's 96,731 Republicans, 60,131 are in South County Assembly District 26 lined up against 51,843 Democrats.

In the North county's Assembly District 27, the position is just the opposite, with 65,268 Democrats and 36,600 Republicans.

District 1, including South San Francisco and San Bruno, has 22,489 Democrats and 9,355 Republicans.

District 5, which counts all the Coastside and Daly City, has a slightly smaller majority, 24,580 Democrats to 11,677 Republicans.

In District 2, San Mateo, Burlingame, Hillsborough and Millbrae, the count is 23,568 to 21,033 in favor of the Democrats.

In District 3, Belmont and San Carlos, the count is 26,260 to 21,756 in favor of the Republicans.

District 4 also favors Republicans, Redwood City, Menlo Park, Woodside, Portola Valley, also favors Republicans, 28,406 to 24,718.

Pacifica Girl Shoots Self With Pistol

A 16-year-old Pacifica girl who had been "contemplating suicide for four or five months" shot herself through the chest with a pistol early Sunay morning.

The girl is reported in "fair condition" at Mary's Help Hospital.

Police said the high school student went to her room about 1:45 a.m. Sunday and shot herself with a .22-caliber target pistol after arguing with her father.

The father summoned Bay Area Ambulance, and the girl was standing in the doorway when police and ambulance attendants arrived.

The pistol was lying on the girl's bed, officers said.

The girl and her father became involved in an argument after she came home from an outing with her boy friend about 1 a.m., police said.

SOME TIPS ON ARRANGING FURNITURE

If your living room leads a double life as both a living and dining area, particular attention must be given to a suitable arrangement. The two areas must be together and yet separated. This can be done by the use of the right pieces and careful spacing.

You might also consider such things as using separate area rugs for your living and dining groups. Or, if you prefer using the same carpet for both areas, you can still separate them by using a specific piece of furniture as a room divider or for creating a passage-way area between the living and dining rooms.

One of the handiest items to use in the home is a serving table on wheels which may be used as a server in your dining room and also used elsewhere for everything from snacks to drinks.

There are several ways in which you can use a very small room as a guest room. One thing you can do is use a convertible sofa-bed instead of a regular bed. You may also find it helpful to place a chest of drawers inside a closet. A narrow drop-leaf table placed against the wall could be used as a desk.

Where there is room, a small desk in the kitchen is very useful for keeping household records and may also be used as a serving table and telephone stand.

Come to us with your space and arrangement problems. This is our specialty.

Jefferson PR Post Is Delayed

The Jefferson Elementary School District is reportedly experiencing some difficulty in hiring a journalist to fill its newly created public information post.

Board members were scheduled to confirm the appointment of an applicant last Tuesday, but the candidate has asked for additional time to consider the district s offer, according to Superintendent Frank Greenwood.

Two earlier applicants have reportedly declined to accept the post after it was offered.

More than 100 applications for the job were received when it was first advertised several months ago, and five of the applicants with "outstanding qualifications" were selected for interviews.

The applicant currently under consideration is reportedly the last of the "outstanding five" to be interviewed.

Creation of the new position, which carries a salary of $10,000 to $12,000, has come under considerable criticism from the Jefferson American Federation of Teachers chapter and other groups.

AFT president Robert Lasley charged last month the public information office was formed to "give the board members a new image at the taxpayers' expense."

However, Greenwood and members of the board have defended their action in creating the post on grounds such a specialist is needed to assist the district administrative staff in applying for federal grants, promoting bond issues and dispensing information.

Many school districts in California have authorized similar posts.

JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY

Teacher Rebuked–She By-Passed Channels . . .

A Franklin D. Roosevelt School teacher seeking $13 to finance a field trip for second grade pupils was reprimanded by Jefferson Elementary School District Board Chairman Thomas Noonan last week for "failure to follow the chain of command."

Hildy Burness appeared before the board to request authorization for an outing to the planetarium at Golden Gate Park next week, and said she and another teacher at the school, Arlene Ruggiero, have been struggling for more than a month "to get through the bureaucratic red tape of the district administration" in attempting to arrange the field trip.

District policy prohibits student excursions not included in the pre-arranged yearly schedule, according to the board, and there are no provisions for extra bus trips.

Mrs. Burness told the board members there should be some provision "which would allow teachers to take advantage of exceptional educational opportunities such as the planetarium visit."

She said her students and those of the other second grade teacher at the school have been studying related matters, and the planetarium visit would be a "once - in - a - lifetime poportunity."

The teachers offered to pay for the bus trip themselves, but district administrators objected to the offer 'because it would set an undesirable precedent."

"We don't want other district teachers to feel obligated to make such personal expenditures," Associate Superintendent for Instruction Dr. Vinton Stratton said.

In criticizing the teacher for bringing the matter directly to the board, Noonan said the whole issue "should have been resolved between the teachers and the staff."

"We can't have every matter of this type brought up for discussion at a board meeting when the administrative staff has not even been consulted," he said.

However, Mrs. Burntss said she had met with District Supt. Frank Greenwood to discuss the problem, and Greenwood was aware she intended to present it to the board.

"Besides, as a citizen of the community, I thought I had a right to appear before the board at a public meeting," she said.

Greenwood was absent when the discussion arose.

Dr. Stratton promised to meet with the teachers and attempt to arrange the field trip, possibly with money from the school's student body fund, or a donation from the P-TA.

Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association vice president Denis O'Leary offered to finance the excursion with funds from his organization.

Doelger Supports New D.C. Drive-In

The Doelger Corporation has strongly supported the application of A & W Root Beer Company to build a drive-in restaurant at the corner of Alemany and Lake Merced Boulevard in Daly City.

Several persons had voiced opposition to the restaurant pointing up the "difficulties" encountered by a similar business in San Mateo.

Opponents have likewise expressed the fear that unruly elements will requent the restaurant and cause disturbances in the neighborhood.

But a Doelger spokesman explained that special policing of the operation will prevent such occurances and the streamlined structure will enhance the corner-site of a present drive-in frequented by teen-agers.

Councilman Michael DeBernardi questioned the traffic pattern for the restaurant and said the matter should be completely studied before any action is taken.

The council was expected to give tentative approval to the restaurant at its next regular meeting. It was also noted tha restaurants that have been the recipients of complaints were located immediately adjacent to homes. In the case of the Daly City drive-in, the entire corner area is zoned commercial, with homes more than a black away.

Voluntary Manslaughter Verdict Returned By Jury

A Superior Court jury returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter against Paul Thomas Cavanagh of San Bruno just before midnight Wednesday.

An hour later the 56-year-old bartender posted $1,250 bail and was released from county jail where he had been held since December 13 on a murder charge.

Superior Judge Melvin E. Cohn scheduled sentencing for 9 a.m., March 29. Cavanagh, of 160 Castleton Way, San Bruno, faces a possible sentence of 1 to 10 years in state prison.

Cavanagh was accused of murdering his wife, Eleanor Ruth, 38, in a Redwood City tavern. Witnesses said he walked into the place carrying a pistol and shot her as she sat at the bar talking to another man.

The defendant testified during his trial that he could not remember the shooting or the events immediately following. He said he and his wife were estranged and told the jury that she had taunted him about her affairs with other men.

The jury deliberated for nearly 13 hours with time out for meals.

County To Defy Protest

Despite the likelihood of a 100 per cent protest by property owners, the County Board of Supervisors agreed last week to proceed with formation of an assessment district to improve a short stretch of Market Street adjoining Daly City.

The board's determination to proceed was sounded out by County Engineer Don S. Wilson, who warned that the project could be delayed for as much as a year unless the supervisors are determined to make an early decision on the assessment project.

Involved is the portion of Market Street between Hillside Boulevard and Third Avenue, an unincorporated island surrounded by Daly City. The city and county are co-operating on improvement of Market Street, which will link the new cross-county road, Guadalupe Canyon Parkway, with Junipero Serra Freeway.

Wilson recommended that the assessment district be established, pointing out that property owners along the unincorporated stretch have never paid to have curbs, gutters and sidewalks built.

He pointed out, however, that two other courses were available to the board: to pay for the work out of county gas tax funds, or not to do the work at all. The board took the assessment choice, despite Wilson's warning that a 100 per cent protest could be expected.

Girls Invited To Services

In observance of the 56th birthday of Girl Scouting, members of Daly City troops, and their families, have been invited to attend churches and temples in the area.

Among the serviecs to which the Girl Scouts have been invited to attend in uniform are the Broadmoor Presbyterian, 11 a.m.; Holy Angels Church 10 a.m. mass, both on Sunday; and Temple Judea, 8:30 a.m., Friday.

Catering Cafeterias Authorized

Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District Tuesday voted final approval for a plan to centralize the district's cafeteria services and inaugurate a catering type system next September.

The administrative staff was authorized to proceed immediately with the program, which will cost approximazely $25,000 initially, but is expected to save the district a considerable amount of money in the future and elminate the annual deficit in cafeteria operations.

Two central kitchens will be located at Woodrow Wilson and Christopher Columbus Schools, and hot lunches for children at all the district's 21 schools will be delivered by truck.

Aesthetic Study For Pacifica

Pacifica's Park, Beach and Recreation Commission is forming a beautification committee to "encourage community beautification and improvement in all areas which relate to aesthetics," officials announced this week.

The new committee will meet each month to "identify projects and project areas, and study and shape solutions to the city's aesthetic drawbacks."

One of the primary functions of the committee will be to "develop a critical community concern for beautification," according to PBR Commission Chairman Mrs. Bernard Hyman.

Transit Cost Sharing Plan

Tentative agreements on how costs and revenues could be shared, if San Mateo County wants the Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BARTD) system extended into this county, haye been worked out.

This was announced by the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority (WBRTA) which is the local agency charged with rapid transit planning for San Mateo County.

In essentials, says WBRTA, the agreements state that WBRTA will pay for all tracks and stations built within San Mateo County, with the exception of the Daly City BARTD station, and will pay a proportionate share of the cost of common facilities such as an administration building, train control center, maintenance yards, and similar charges involving the service to San Mateo County.

WBRTA would also pay a proportionate share of the purchase and maintenance costs of all rolling stock.

Fares would be divided on a similar basis but other income such as advertising in stations, rents of air rights over stations, etc., would be kept by the agency owning the property.

A final report from WBRTA's joint engineering team is expected in June of this year, with public hearing to be held during the summer, and board adoption of a plan in the Fall. The final plan would be submitted to San Mateo County voters in Spring of 1969. Plans in addition to extension of BARTD are in the current studies.

"Price Break!" What it means at Penney's

By ROBERTA NASH

Of course a price break means just what you'd expect—a price that's lower today than yesterday. But at Penney's, there's a different philosophy behind the meaning.

It all began with Mr. Penney's great belief in value. Not occasional value. Day-in-day-out value. Our regular customers know this but what about new ones?

Now and then, to get folks to sample Penney quality, we make a price so low it's irresistible. That's how we get more and more new people into our stores, and that's how we build the business.

Meeting With S.F. Is Sought

San Mateo County officials are seeking a meeting with San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto to urge that San Francisco place its 22,000 acres of watershed land in agriculture preserve as an alternative to a whopping increase in assessed valuations and taxes on the property.

The Board of Supervisors last week requested County Manager E. R. Stallings to attempt to arrange the meeting with Alioto and other San Francisco officials.

Board Chairman James V. Fitzgerald urged the action, stating that the assessor's office is in the process of reappraising the value on the watershed property, the first such action since 1952.

One of the expressed concerns of San Mateo officials is that if property values and taxes are increased the city of San Francisco may find it necessary to sell off some of its holdings for commercial or residential use instead of holding it for recreational and park purposes.

Present land value of the watershed property ranges as low as $100 an acre and averages about $400 an acre, according to County Assessor Jack Estes.

Fitzgerald claimed that under a reappraisal the land value could shoot up to as much as $10,000 an acre.

Placing the watershed in agricultural preserve would result in keeping the assessed valuation down and would prevent intrusions of residential and commercial uses.

'Harvey' Will Be Staged Twice at El Camino High

Scheduled for March 15 and 16 at El Camino High School in South San Francisco is the comedy "Harvey," by Mary Chase.

Harvey is an invisible rabbit, companion of Elwood P. Dowd, middle-aged millionaire.

Playing Dowd will be Phil Devine, veteran of all El Camino productions since he entered the school.

Cathy Wheat, a senior, will portray Elwood's sister, Veta Louise Simmons, who attempts to commit Elwood to a sanitarium.

Veta's daugher, Myrtle Mae, is played by senior Katie Milo. Although Myrtle is worried about her Uncle Elwood, she would much rather be thinking about marriage.

"I feel this will be a very entertaining evening and I hope everyone will leave wishing they had an imaginary rabbit-friend," commented Mrs. Lysbeth Marr, director.

Playing a vivacious nurse at the sanitarium is Linda Barton, a senior. She falls for the young psychiatrist played by Dario Oakley, a junior.

The sanitarium director, Dr. Chumley, is portrayed by senior Fred Peterson. Mrs. Chumley is played by Joanne Grout, a senior, while a sophomore, Dennis Bass, plays Wilson, the man-in-the - white-coat.

Complicating the plot even further is Judge Omar Gaffney, portrayed by Pat Murphy, a senior, who brings a suit against the sanitarium.

Completing the cast are senior Gretchen Bloom, as Mrs. Chauvenet, a guest of the Simmons; Marcy Dobrow, a junior, as the maid, and Jack Spiveya, junior, as the cab driver. Student Director is Gayle Garrod.

Curtain will rise at 8 p.m. on Friday and 8:30 p.m. on Saturday. Tickets will be available at the door or on the campus of the school.

"Tax Watchdog Organization" of San Mateo County

Governmental Research Council* Endorses College Proposals!

*The GRC is devoted to analyzing public budgets and expenditures to protect the public interest in all matters pertaining to taxes. Their endorsement came after a thorough study of the proposals of the San Mateo Junior college district.

RESOLUTION

- WHEREAS: The Junior College system in San Mateo County has shown itself to be of great value to the residents and taxpayers by providing a highly respected system of higher education; and,
- WHEREAS: The construction proposed is not new construction, but the completion of a construction program endorsed by the Council in 1964 and since eroded by increasing costs and inflation; and,
- WHEREAS: The basic assumptions regarding increased enrollment which necessitate increased expenditures at all 3 campuses are reasonable and valid; and,
- WHEREAS: The increased staffing and maintenance costs are based on sound business analysis and make allowance for cost increases; and,
- WHEREAS: The administration has shown sound management ability in holding a reasonable expenditure level and has exercised good judgement in investment and construction practices in the best interest of the district taxpayers;
- NOW BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED: The Governmental Research Council of San Mateo County endorses both the Bond proposal and the Tax Rate increase and recommends their adoption by the voters of the district.

Corned Beef Recipe— For Irish, Naturally

Good morning, good cooks.

And are you aware that come Sunday we will all be wearing green and talking with a wee bit of a brogue? Sure and 'tis St. Patrick's Day and the world will be full of Irishmen. Whether you are Irish by luck or by choice, let's celebrate the day by cooking a bit of corned beef.

CORNED BEEF AND CABBAGE

6 pounds corned beek brisket
1 cabbage
3 turnips
6 onions
4 carrots
6 potatoes
2 bay leaves
4 whole cloves

Cover the six pounds of corned beef brisket with cold water. Add the two bay leaves and four whole cloves. Heat rapidly to boiling, then skim off foam, reduce heat and simmer until tender, four to five hours.

Prepare the vegetables, cutting the cabbage into eights and the turnips into quarters.

About 45 minutes before serving, skim fat from liquid and add the turnips, onions, carrots and potatoes. Cover and cook about one-half hour. Add the cabbage for the last 15 minutes of cooking. Cook until all the vegetables are tender. Drain well and serve. Serves 10. This is what I would call a traditional boiled corned beef dinner cooked by the method that I've used for years and it's delicious.

Next I want to share with you, good cooks, a recipe for cooking corned beef in a different manner and the results are delicious also. Mrs. Lorrayne Page, who lives at 3821-26th St., in San Francisco was kind enough to share this recipe with me. Lorrayne loves to cook and is a very good cook, and I was eager to try her recipe.

This recipe is headed "Corned Beef—Ham Style" and it is completely different from any corned beef I've ever tasted. The wine and sweet sauce changes it completely.

CORNED BEEF (HAM STYLE)

4 pounds corned beef
1½ cups white wine
1 small onion, quartered
2 stalks celery, cut up

Cover corned beef with cold water, heat to boiling and skim. Add the one and one-half cups white wine, one onion and celery. Reduce heat and simmer meat until tender, three to four hours. Remove from liquid and place in roaster and spread the following sauce over meat. Cook in 350-degree oven, basting every 10 minutes with the sauce for one-half hour.

SAUCE

¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup chili sauce
1 tsp. prepared mustard
2 tbsp. red wine
¼ cup white wine

Combine the one-fourth cup each, brown sugar and chili sauce, add the one teaspoon mustard, two tablespoons red wine and one-fourth cup white wine. Blend well and pour over meat.

If you wish you may boil your vegetables in the liquid in which the meat was cooked. When you remove the meat bring it back to a boil and add the vegetables.

I can't think of a St. Patrick's day dinner without soda bread, and this recipe for Sweepstakes bread is truly, quick and easy, tasty and delicious.

IRISH SWEEPSTAKES BREAD

¾ cup seedless raisins
2 cups flour
1 Tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
one third cup butter
1 teaspoon caraway seed
1 egg
1 cup sour milk

Rinse and drain the three-fourths cup raisins. Sift together the two cups flour, one tablespoon sugar, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon soda and one teaspoon salt. Cut in the one-third cup butter with knives or pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Stir in the raisins and one teaspoon caraway seed. Beat the egg slightly and add to the cup of sour milk. Make a well in the center of the flour mixture and pour all liquid in at once. Stir with a fork until the flour is moistened. DON'T OVERMIX. Turn into greased eight-inch round pan. Bake in 400-degree oven for about 20 minutes. Serve in wedges with butter. Makes 8 wedges.

For dessert you might want to serve this apple cake. I rediscovered this recipe about three weeks ago and tested it to find if it was as delicious as I remembered. It is.

IRISH APPLE CAKE

3 cups flour
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks
1 cup butter
grated rind of one lemon
1 can applesauce, No. 303
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¾ teaspoon cloves

Set your oven to 350 degrees. Grease a 9x9-inch square pan.

Sift and measure the three cups flour. Into a large mixing bowl sift the flour, three-fourths cup sugar and one-half teaspoon salt. Add the one cup butter, three egg yolks and grated lemon rind. Work together well and divide into two parts.

Press half the mixture into bottom of the greased pan. Mix the one can of applesauce, one-half teaspoon cinnamon and one-fourth teaspoon cloves together and spread on top. Crumble the rest of the mixture over the top of the applesauce filling. Bake 50 minutes in the 350-degree oven.

Delicious served warm with ice cream or whipped cream. It's just as good served cold.

What to do with the three egg whites you now have left? Well you can use them in a white cake. Most mixes call for two egg whites, just toss the other one in too, it will just make it a little lighter.

San Bruno Couple Marks Fiftieth Anniversary

A reception on Sunday at the Sacramento home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Olsen, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. P. (Bill) Olsen of San Bruno.

Olsen and the former Marie Frantz were married March 4, 1918, in Salt Lake City, Utah. They moved to San Bruno in 1948, and Olsen was employed by the S&H Stamp Company for 15 years. He retired in 1961.

The couple both belong to Woodmen of the World and are active in the Latter-Day Saints Church, San Bruno Ward. Olsen is president of the San Bruno Park Improvement Association, and they have a granddaughter, Rhonda Olsen, 15.

The Olsens are planning a trip to Hawaii as part of their celebration.

New Oil Paint Lesson Series

A new six-week series of oil painting classes, instructed by Marjorie Elliott, under sponsorship of the Daly City Recreation Department, will be offered beginning March 27.

Although previous classes have been conducted on Tuesdays, classes in the new series will be held Wednesdays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., in the upstairs room of the War Memorial Community Center.

Both beginning and advanced students are encouraged to register for the classes as individual instruction is given and each person proceeds at his own pace.

Those participating must provide their own supplies.

Instruction fee for the series is $22.

CUTTING THE cake at the reception which followed their recent marriage are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chester Zawada (Constance Irene Cronin). They were married at St. Robert's Catholic Church in San Bruno. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Francis J. Cronin, and her husband is the son of Mrs. Chester Zawada. The couple will live in Millbrae.

Life Member Pin to Coach

Clad in a Westmoor varsity basketball suit, Daly City Councilman Anthony Giammona recently received an honorary PTA life membership from Westmoor High's Life Membership Chairman Jane Powell.

The basektball suit personified Giammona's participation and interest in Westmoor and its students, commented Mrs. Powell during her presentation. Giammona is director of athletics and head coach of the varsity basketball and golf teams.

He came to Westmoor when it opened in 1956, after teaching four years at Jefferson High School.

St. Pat's Day Spaghetti Feed

The Mercian Club of Our Lady of Mercy Parish will hold a spaghetti dinner for St. Patrick's Day, March 17 in the parish hall, starting at 5:30 p.m.

A live band will play for dancing after dinner. Tickets at $1.75 a person, may be obtained from Caroline Rickenbacher or Candy Sousa.

Greg Sariotti is chairman. The Mercian Club, under the leadership of Bill Feeley, meets the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

Janie Peterson to Wed

A champagne dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Bertsch of San Bruno was the occasion for them to announce the engagement of her daughter, Janie Peterson, to James Walsh.

The bride-elect attended Capuchino High School and the College of San Mateo. She is the sister of Linda and Pamela Peterson and the granddaughter of Mrs. Lavina Wilson of San Bruno. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Genochio are her uncle and aunt, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Freeman, her great uncle and aunt.

James, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Walsh Jr. of San Francisco, attended Balboa High School and served with the Marines. He is the brother of Sharon Guillestegue and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Flisher of San Francssco.

The couple plans to marry at St. Bruno's Catholic Church in San Bruno June 22 with a reception to follow at the San Bruno American Legion Hall.

Janie has asked Patti Wallace of San Bruno to be her maid of honor, and bridesmaids will include her sister, Linda, and his sister. Janie's other sister, Pamela, will be the flowergirl.

Gordon McGowan of San Francisco will be James' best man, and Ed Cichon and Mario Avila, both of San Francisco will usher. Dennis Stack of Pleasant Hills will carry the rings.

Jefferson Honor Band Concert Set

The Jefferson Union High school District Honor Band, under the direction of Alan Harvey of Oceana High School, will present its second concert March 20 at 8 p.m. in the Westmoor high school gymnasium.

This program will feature two soloists.

Greg Adams of Westmoor will perform the first movement of the Haydn Trumpet concerto, accompanied by the Honor Band. Miss Rae Ann Dahlquist, timpanist from Oceeana, will be featured in "Timpat," a modern solo piece for timpani and band.

The Honor Band is made up of the finest players in the Jefferson High School District, drawing musicians from Jefferson, Oceana, Terra Nova and Westmoor High Schools.

The group is of wind ensemble proportions, and only those students recommended by their high school teacher were allowed to audition.

The program will be a varied one, ranging from contemporary band literature such as "Pageant" by Vincent Persichetti, and "Festival Prelude" by Alfred Reed, to such popular numbers as selections from "Westside Story" and "My Fair Lady." Also included on the program will be two standard marches, the novelty "January February Morch," and "Danza Final" by Alberto Ginastera.

The concert admission is $1 for dults, and $.50 for students.

Play Festival Awards Given

By WENDY WOOLERY

Dennis Powers, drama critic, said, ". . . very good . . ."

Dr. Clarence Miller of San Francisco State said, ". . . excellent character development, body movement, timing, and ensemble acting . . ."

Bill Witt, drama instructor at Lincoln High School, said, ". . . sound outstanding; well done; refreshing for high school . . ."

All three of these prominent men in the field of acting were referring to Jefferson's production of "The Apollo of Bellac," performed March 5, during sixth and seventh periods and after school at Jeff, and March 7, at Westmoor's Little Theatre for the First Annual Jefferson Union High School District One-Act Play Festival. At the Festival there was no first prize. Awards were given to individual performers in every cast.

An evaluation of the blocking, casting, play selection, picturization, and pace was for the director.

Individual awards went to Larry Meckler from Westmoor, who played Don Pepe in the production of "The Red Velvet Goat" by Josephina Nigli. The director was Kenneth Brown.

From the "Apollo of Bellac" Melva Smith received an award for an outstanding performance in a cameo role, Dorothy Redmond for an outstanding performance in a character role, and Richard Talavera for an outstanding performance in a character role.

The director was Mrs. John Mongan.

From Ben Franklin junior high school, an award was given for an outstanding performance to the guards in "The Barber from Lilypond or The Monstrous Cliche," written by Frank Ramirez and Cecelia Pelicon. The guards were Mitch Chernock, Mike Goulding, Jim Houghton, Steve Jones, Jay Knudson, and Bill Ricky. Cecelia Pelicon directed the production.

From Terra Nova, Jo An Ethridge received an award for an outstanding performance in a stylized role, Charlie Porter for an outstanding performance in a character role, and Dave Follis for an outstanding performance. The first two were in "Fumed Oak," by Noel Coward, and the last award was for "Communtcation" by Eugene Ionesco.

U.S. AIR FORCES, Thailand — Curtis M. Davids, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted E. Davids of 1711 Santa Lucia, San Bruno, has been promoted to sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

Sergeant Davids is a Strategic Air Command navigation equipment repairman with the 4258th Strategic Wing at U-Tapao Airfield, Thailand.

He supports B-52 Stratofortress bombers which daily attack Viet Cong targets and KC-135 Stratotankers which provide refueling to fighter, bomber and reconnaissance aircraft conducting the air war over Vietnam.

The sergeant is a graduate of Capuchino High School.

MAC AWARD

HONOLULU — Technical Sergeant James M. Griffin, son of Major and Mrs. Charles W. Griffin of 77 Belmont Street, Daly City, has helped the Military Airlift Command's (MAC) 61st Military Airlift Wing earn the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Sergeant Griffin, an aircraft loadmaster with a unit of the 61st at Hickam AFB, Hawaii, will wear a distinctive ribbon as a permanent decoration. The wing was honored for exceptionally meritorious service during a one year period, with particular emphasis on its support of military operations in Southeast Asia.

This is the fourth time that the 61st has been so honored.

The wing, with headquarters at Hickam, and its many units located throughout the Pacific and Southeast Asia, are charged with the MAC airlift responsibilities in an area from Hawaii west to Pakistan, and from Japan to Antarctica.

AT NHA TRANG AFB

With U.S. COMBAT AIR FORCES, Vietnam — Airman First Class Michael J. Whiteley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Whiteley of 605 Cypress Avenue, South San Francisco, is on duty at Nha Trang AB, Vietnam.

Airman Whiteley, a fire protection specialist, is a member of the Pacific Air Forces. Before his arrival in Southeast Asia, he was assigned to Moody AFB, Ga.

The airman is a graduate of the South San Francisco High School.

IN FIERCE FIGHT

LONG BINH, Vietnam — Army Specialist Four Herman C. Christensen Jr., 23, whose mother, Mrs. C. D. Wright, lives at 8 Cragmont Court, Pacifica, took part in the defense of the II Field Force's headquarters during the recent attack on Long Binh, Vietnam.

Two battalions of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong struck at night from a refugee hamlet immediately across the Saigon-Bien Hoa highway from the headquarters. The defenders sufferd only one dead and twelve wounded while being credited with killing over 1,000 of the Communist attackers.

Lieutenant General Fred C. Weyand, commanding general of the II Field Force, had high praise for the men who blunted the attack. He told them that he was proud of them as soldiers and as Americans. Their alertness, he continued, had saved the headquarters from being penetrated.

H.M.B. GRAD

AMARILLO, Tex. — Airman John L. Ruly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rully of Montara, has completed basic training at Amarillo AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to the Air Force Technical Training Center at Sheppard AFB, Tex., for specialized schooling as an aircraft maintenance specialist.

DEFENDS LONG BINH

CAMP FRENZELL - JONES, Vietnam — Army Specialist Four James K. Varner, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Varner, 217 Beach View Drive, Pacifica, participated in the recent defense of American military installations near Long Binh, Vietnam.

He and other members of the 100th Light Infantry Brigade were responsible for killing over 900 enemy troops during the fighting that took place during the Lunar New Year attacks on Vietnamese cities.

After shattering the massive Viet Cong rocket and mortar attacks, the 100th halted a ground attack on its perimeter. They then trapped enemy forces with blocking and sweeping actions, capturing over 120 VC. The American brigade had only 11 killed and 92 wounded, 45 of whom did not require hospitalization.

Spec. Varner, whose wife, Nancy, lives at 10255 S. W. Washington, Portland, Ore., is a gunner in Troop D of the brigade's 17th Cavalry.

TOP UNIT AWARD

NORTH CHARLESTON, S.C. — Sergeant Stanley E. Decker, son of Mrs. Cretta M. Decker of 840 Sixth Avenue, San Bruno, has been recognized for helping his unit earn the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Sergeant Decker, a protective coating specialist in the 437th Military Airlift Wing at Charleston AFB, S.C., will wear the distinctive service ribbon as a permanent decoration.

The unit was cited for achieving an exceptionally meritorious rating for distinguished service during a one-year period.

Factors which led to the unit being named for the award include development of a highly responsible airlift organization which maintained vital airlift routes essential to the United States overseas commitment to free nations in the world.

The sergeant is a 1965 graduate of Crestmoor High School.

Fifty-Plus Club Readies Tahoe Trip

It will be the "Wearin' o' the Green" on St. Patrick's day March 17 when the much-traveled Fifty-Plus Club of Pacifica will celebrate the holiday by chartering a Greyhound bus for an overnight jaunt to Lake Tahoe's South shore.

The active seniors and their friends will leave Pacifica's City Hall at 8 a.m. on Sunday and stay overnight at the Cabana Motel, returning early Monday evening.

"You don't have to be a Senior Citizen to join us," Edna Laurel Calhan, culb president pointed out.

"Reservations are going fast as South Shore Tahoe seems to be one of our most popular trips."

She urged those interested to contact reservations chairman Elizabeth Funderburg at 355-2184.

The total trip cost via the bus is $15.45 a person for double-bed occupancy, $16.45 for twin bids and $18.45 for a single.

CSF Honors At Westmoor For Seniors

Receiving the honor of life membership in the California Scholarship Federation, fifteen Westmoor seniors will be further recognized during graduation exercises in June.

CSF life memberships for this year are Al Danielson, Dario de Ghetaldi, Larry Diamond, Patricia Eassa, Craig Forman, Crol Friedman, Betty Hodgskiss, Kathy Knowlton, Steven McBride, Donna Neugebauer, Jackie O'Brien, Steve Seager, David Smotkin, Donald Weiden, and Larry Wolff.

Four other students, Gary Fish, Carol Kelly, Kevin Lindsey and Melva Wills, are potential life members. If they make CSF next semester, they will be eligible for the same honors as their 15 classmates who made it this semester.

In order to become a CSF member one must accumulate a total of 10 academic points. An "A" merits 3 points, and a "B" merits 1 point. Thus a student must have at least 3 "A's" in academic courses, not counting physical education.

To be a life member, one must be in CSF for five semesters. Of these five, one semester must be in the senior year.

Plan Tutors for Non English-Speaking

A comprehensive language tutoring program for elementary students who do not have a working knowledge of English was approved last Tuesday by Jefferson Elementary School District trustees in Daly City.

Recommended by Dr. Vinton Stratton, associate superintendent for instruction, and a special committee composed of teachers and principals from throughout the district, the new tutoring program will be placed into operation immediately.

Dr. Stratton said the program is the result of a two-year survey to determine the most feasible method of teaching English to approximately 100 students in the district "who have n knowledge of the language at all."

The students are scattered over all the district's 21 schools, and over grades through eight, the associate superintendent said, and this has posed some basic problems.

After considering a number of alternaives, the district staff and members of the study group decided to establish the tutoring program at "no more than 12 schools."

The tutorial system was chosen over a proposal for a centralized language program for several reasons, Dr. Stratton said.

"In considering a centralized operation at one location in the district, we were faced with the prospect of busing the students," he said, "and creating a sort of segregation in the district."

Also, both the busing and the need for additional classroom space that a language center would necessitate and be more expensive than the adopted program, which will cost an estimated $9,000 to $12,000 per year.

The district tutoring programs will be operated one hour each day, either after or before regular school hours, and no new classroom space will be necessary.

Teachers at each of the centers will be paid on an hourly rate, Dr. Stratton said.

"Where the problem of language handicap is small enough to be handled within the regular classrooms, a tutoring center will not be necessary," he said.

"It will come into existence in a particular school only when needed above and beyond the help possible in the regular classrooms."

Students will remain in the tutoring program only as long as needed to require lanuage skills necessary to function within the regular classrooms.

Most of the students who will be included in the program are from Spanish-speaking countries, though many other nationalities are also represented, Dr. Stratton said.

The program will be evaluated at the end of th current school year, and the district adminisrative staff will make further recommendations at that time he said.

Funds for the new program will come from the district's general fund reserves.

'The Great Catastrophe'– Film Showing at Church

The newly released 16-mm. motion picture, "The Great Catastrophe" will be shown at Westside Baptist Church of Pacificaat 7 p.m. Sunday.

This film is a 23-minute interview between Walter Carlson of Radio Station WMBI of Chicago, and Miss Arlene Peterson, missionary to Assam, before she returned to that field in July of 1966.

In this film, three catastrophes are spelled out, which have befallen the land of Assam since Protestant missionaries have entered this land.

Recently three missionary couples of the Baptist General Conference were expelled from this field. Since that time other Protestant missionaries have been asked to leave, or have not had their visas renewed.

Also at this service, men who have been at the Men's Retreat at Mission Springs will report.

Pastor A. David Donnelly is conducting a church membership orientation class for boys and girls, during the 9:45 Sunday School class period.

"Wanted, Vessels!" is the topic chosen by Pastor Donnelly for the 11 morning worship hour message, Sunday.

Ken Patton, junior student at Simpson Bible College in San Francisco, and worker in the church, assists the pastor in morning services.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson conduct the primary church service for boys and girls, four through seven years of age, during the adult worship hour.

Friday, a number of the men from Westside Baptist Church will meet with men from some 23 other Northern California churches for the annual men's brotherhood retreat, at Mission Springs Conference Grounds, Santa Cruz.

The Women's Bible class now meets at the home of Mrs. Barbara DeLung, 18 Eastridge Circle (Fairmont) in Pacifica, at 9:30 a.m., Tuesdays.

On March 19 at 7 p.m., junior high girls' Missionary Guild will meet at the home of their leader, Mrs. DeLung.

Prayer and Bible Study Hour will meet at the church parsonage, 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno at 7:30 .pm. today.

Westside Baptist Church is affiliated with the Baptist General Conference. The church hold their Sunday services at the San Andreas School Auditorium, Inverness Drive and Hickey, Pacifica.

Archdiocesan Lectures For Adults Continuing

The Archdiocesan Adult Lecture - Discussion Series inaugurated as a part of Lent 1968 will continue today at 8 p.m. at the two Peninsula locations. Serra High School, 451 West 20th Avenue, San Mateo, and Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, 347 Grand Street, Redwood City.

This series is co-sponsored by the Office of Adult Education and the Commission on Social Justice. It is the American bishops dialogue with the people on the burden of leadership and collaboration in "The Church in Our Day."

Rev. Frank Norris, Professor of Theology at St. Patrick's Seminary, will speak at Serra High School.

The Church, 'Subterfuge" or "Sign"? will be his subject which explores the mystery and relevance of the church, especially as an institution, in today's world. Rev. Loren Dwyer is chairman of the series being held at this location.

Congregation B'nai Israel Will Conduct Purim Rites

The festive holiday of Purim will be celebrated at Congregation B'nai Israel services Wednesday at 8 p.m., conducted by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and Cantor Henry Greenberg and featuring the traditional Graggars (noisemakers) provided for the children.

The Sisterhood will serve Hamantaschen, a Purim delicacy, after the service.

Reservations are being accepted for a Congregational Passover Seder on April 13 to be held at the Temple.

Seating capacity is limited for this strictly Kosher dinner.

Congregation B'nai Israel was host to students of Holy Angels' Catholic Church recently when Rabbi Shore talked to the children, explaining the Jewish religion and the meaning of the various symbols of the synagogue.

Members and friends of the congregation are collecting canned goods and other supplies for shipment to soldiers in Viet Nam. Information may be obtained by calling the Temple office or Leonard Mayer.

Man Loses Leg in Crash In Daly City

A P.G.&E. company employee lost his right leg in an auto-truck accident on rain slick Geneva Avenue near the Cow Palace Thursday.

Surgeons at Mary's Help Hospital battled to save the badly mangled limb of John Curran, 38, but decided to amputate below the knee when their efforts failed.

The 20-year veteran employee of P.G.&E. was reported in good condition this morning following more than four hours of surgery.

Curran, of 767 Clarinada Avenue, Daly City, was climbing out of the rear of the truck parked on the side of Geneva Avenue shortly before 9 p.m. when a car, driven by David Beatty, 39, of 1219 U Street, San Mateo, smashed into the vehicle, police said.

The victim wa pinned between the two venicles by his right leg.

A company spokesman said Curran had been employed since 1948 as a cablesplicer. He was answering emergency calls last night with two other employees when they stopped at the Martin Substation to make a telephone call to the main office.

The unidentified co-workers were already inside the substation at the time of the accident.

The accident is still under investigation, police said, and no citations had been issued.

St. Veronica Special Mass Next Tuesday

A University of San Francisco Jesuit and teacher will invite active participation of communicants in a special worship service Tuesday evening, March 19, at 8 p.m. at St. Veronica's Church, Alida Way, South San Francisco.

The Rev. Robert J. Brophy, S.J., will celebrate Holy Mass, introducing new forms into the traditional liturgy of Catholics. He will stress the communal nature of the Mass as he proceeds through t' service.

This Mass is the third of a four-part Lenten series, "The Meaning of Community" sponsored by the parish social justice committee. Members of nearby St. Elizabeth's Episcopal Church and their vicar. Fr. Ferdinand D. Daunders, will be special guests.

Martin Breuer, chairman of the committee, invites members of all faiths to attend. Refreshments will be served in the school hall after the Mass.

Fr. Brophy is an assistant professor of English at USF. He possesses a Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina and has attended Gonzaga, Loyola and Santa Clara Universities. He is a former teacher at St. Ignatius High School.

The last program in the series will be a sample Paschal Meal in the school hall on March 26.

Rev. Pal C. Coleman is pastor at St. Veronica's.

John Fahey Found Guilty

Former Justice of the Peace John J Fahey of South San Francisco was found guilty in federal court in San Francisco Thursday for not filing his Federal tax returns for 1960, 1961, and 1962.

Fahey told the court he was too busy defending clients to file his tax returns. The lawyer has been prominent for years in North County politics and once ran for superior court judge opposing Judge Louis B. Dematteis. He lives at 3148 Dublin Court. Judge William T. Beeks of Seattle who handled the trial set July 16 for sentencing.

Coast S-DA Unit Honored

Members of the Pacifica Seventh-day Adventist Church, 1500 Perez (St. Edmund's), this week found themselves part of an official recognition by the United States House of Representatives.

"The U.S. House of Representatives recently heard a speech of recognition of the Centennial which the Pacifica Adventist Church is celebrating throughout 1968 read into the Congressional Record by the Honorable Jerry L. Mrs. Patricia Mattson is in charge. Sunday School begins with the three year olds.

The sermon theme at the 9:15 and 11 a.m. worship services is to be "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" as preached by the pastor, the Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie.

The Chancel Choir will sing the anthem, "Jesus, Grant Me This, I Pray," at the 11 o'clock service.

Chef Wilfried Blarer Was Trained in Europe

FEW PEOPLE REALIZE what a distinguished culinary background chef Wilfried Blarer of The Matterhorn restaurant really has. Not only was he trained in several of Europe's finest dining meccas, but he has cooked for Princess Margaret. The occasion was June of 1959, and Wilfried even has a plaque attesting to his performance . . . "Last Sunday was like the day before Christmas," said Ray Schaeffer, handsome general manager of the Hillsdale Farmers Market restaurants. Ray was talking about the crowd that took advantage of the Sunday $1 Dinner Day specials featured by the nine different restaurants in Farmers Market. DARLENE HESSLER and Walt Morris, winners in Last Wednesday night's Dance Contest at the Hi-Fi Room South, will now compete against other weekly winners at the end of the month. Prizes are trips to Reno and Las Vegas. And don't forget the "All you can eat" spread of pizza and tacos for just 25 cents on Tuesday and Thursday nights . . . An enthusiastic ringsider at Finocchio's new revue, this week, opera star Eleanor Steber went backstage after the show to visit the cast. She was especially intrigued with the fine soprano singing of femme impersonator Laverne Cummings. Presented four times nightly, the new Finocchio's revue is loaded with comedy and songs . . . Tony Mannini, crony of Tom Zucchelli and a former Butchertown boxing great, and his daughter were recent diners at Bruno's in downtown San Mateo. Tony's fistic achievements are a legend with past Butchertown residents, as many can recall when he fought Batam-weight Champ Lou Salica in New York's Madison Square Garden many years ago.

SEBASTIAN'S OF BELMONT, located at the former site of Doran's superclub, opened for business Friday night and is now serving dinners. A Michael Kerns and Gerald Teaderman enterprise, the two owners sincerely apologize for any inconveniences diners must tolerate because of the yet-to-be - completed refurbishing of the restaurant. Chef Jacob Levi, who formerly worked at Ernie's, Paoli's and the Gold Platter, is in charge of the kitchen. Steak, prime rib and lobster will all be specialities of the house, with various Continental dishes also being prevalent on the menu. Sebastian's cocktail lounge has been in operation for the past couple of weeks, and their splendid banquet rooms should be ready for a full-scale operation by the middle of this month.

THE KENNY BURT TRIO will step into the spotlight of Michael and Grayce Gottlieb's Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae Wednesday, March 20. The well known Bay Area music makers will appear nightly Tuesday through Saturday, with the Steve Romano group playing for dinner-dancing on Sunday and Monday evenings. The elegant Chez Michel restaurant is a cozy little spot for an evening of romantic dancing and gourmet dining . . . Guy and Al Falchi have expanded their High Iron, the quaint restaurant located on the site of the old Vallemar Train Station in Pacifica. Now seating 70 people for dinner, the High Iron menu puts emphasis on French-Continental cuisine. You'll find the lounge packed with Pacifica fun lovers most every evening . . . Hot and cold sandwiches, pizza, cold beer and a bevy of curvy waitresses can all be found at The Chestnut during lunch time. The bustling nitery, an evening scene of torrid Topless action, is now open for luncheon Monday through Friday, says Manager Jay DeKeyser.

ACCORDING TO DINERS response, prime rib and New York steak are Chef Tony's two big menu favorites at Fred and Jerry Rapp's Holiday Inn, South San Francisco, reports Yade Parangi, assistant maitre'd and capable "right hand" to Food and Beverage Manager Claude Schroeder . . . Leslie Uggams of "Mitch Miller Sing Along" fame and the Baja Marimba Band are the current attractions in the Headliner Room at Harrah's Reno. Miss Uggams opened last night and will appear twice nightly through March 20. Bill Cosby is half-way through his engagement in the South Shore Room at Harrah's Tahoe (he appears through March 20). With Cosby are the outstanding Pair Extraordinaire, singer Carl Craig and bassist Marcus Hemphill; and the Moro-Landis Dancers and Leighton Noble and his orchestra. In the Stateline Cabaret are singer Don Cornell, The Fall Guys, Suzi Arden, and The Summer Winds . . . .

LUCIEN SABELLA is a real genius when it comes to creating new dishes for his A. Sabella's menu, with Stuffed Chicken Florentine being his latest. The name might not be new, but the ingredients that go into making this a most-requested dish certainly are. After a banquet of 200 persons feasted on this popular entree, the dapper Fisherman's Wharf restaurant owner was besieged with requests for the recipe . . . Maria, the Condor's "Girl on the Piano," is the newest act predicted to revolutionize North Beach entertainment. First, it was the Topless. Now it appears as though the "total nude" look will prevail at the niteries along San Francisco's famed Broadway strip. Appearing also at the Condor are Tina, Toby and The Happy Lads, and a pair of Topless dancers appropriately called the "Topless 100" . . . . .

Any day of the week will find several bus loads of tourists arriving and departing from the parking lot of the International Inn restaurant in South San Francisco. Manager Doug Young used to keep a weekly count, but the "schedule" became so heavy that it was almost impossible to keep track of the out-of-town visitors.

Now that the thoroughbreds are again running at Golden Gate Fields in Albany, horsemen and race track followers can usually be found any evening at South San Francisco's Leaning Tower. Joe and Lou Ercoli have countless friends in the racing circle, most of whom are frequent diners at the brothers' renowned restaurant.

Sea Food A Villa Chartier And Lanai Lenten Special

With Lenten season under way, bear in mind that the distinguished Villa Chartier and exotic Lanai restaurants are as well-known for sea food dishes as they are for prime rib, steaks and banquets — not to mention Maine lobster, which is flown in fresh daily and prepared just as it is served in Maine.

A tropical setting awaits your visit to the Lanai, with both food and drink backdropped with tunes of "hula land."

New Joe's might have their special in San Francisco, but let me tell you right now that Vince Licata features a "Vince's Special" at his San Mateo Italian and seafood restaurant that doesn't have to run second on any menu.

Diners at Phil Lehr's Steakery got an eyeful, a few nights ago, when they spotted Jackie Gleason (with a DOUBLE Steak Wellington); also Joan Fontaine and producer Otto Preminger seated in the crowd in the Wellington Room at Phil's.

Belmont Chuck Wagon, a Peninsula restaurant combining authentic western atmosphere and gourmet cuisine, now offers an additional "plus" — pianobar fun on Friday and Saturday eves. Top local keyboard artist keeps the crowds happy with a jumping combination of vocals, gags and lots of singalong. It's a congenial place to top off an evening "on the town."

Made a slight error at a political dinner in Oakland, the other p.m., when I grasped the arm of Shirley Temple Black, thinking it was the arm of Theresa Urban, co-owner of Scotty Campbells' in Redwood City. These lovely ladies are look-alikes — right up to the dimples.

Last weekend was one of the busiest ever in the history of San Mateo's Fork 'n' Cork restaurant. Open seven days a week, with Sunday's serving hours being 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. A children's menu is also available. Pianobar entertainment in the "Cork" room.

Pert Ollie Ericksen is the people-pleasing waitress who assists diners at Frank Torres Montara Beach Hotel. Ollie, who has been at the famed Montara dining haven for over eight years, has become quite a favorite personality with frequent diners here.

Note: the delicious Cheese Cake offered by Frank and Fannie rivals any dessert on the Peninsula.

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND — The Trio Bel Canto, internationally reknowned recording stars who were made famous by such Grecian song favorites as "Never on Sunday" and the haunting "Zorba The Greek," returned to the stage of Mike Kourkoutakis' Alexi's Zorba supper club, in Burlingame Friday night, for another lengthy engagement. Two complete shows are performed nightly; reservations suggested.

Black Angus Sets New Record

It was a record breaking weekend for San Mateo's Black Angus Chuck Wagon, as the largest crowd in the restaurant's history turned out for Sunday's "All you can eat" dinner. With service being from 12 noon on Sunday, the "ranch foreman" here suggests diners come early to avoid the mass of hungry people.

Many of the Black Angus' patrons come from as far away as San Jose. And when you consider the number of people within a 50-mile radius of San Mateo, you can imagine how many people dine at the Black Angus on weekends.

Giuliano, the handsome maitre 'd at Doros gourmet restaurant on San Francisco's Montgomery, came here from New York City, where he presided over several top restaurants.

The Cap'ns Cabin bowling team, John Peet, Andy Chukalas, Bob Price, Robert McVicker and John Hollenrake, are currently well established in second place, hot after the league leaders. Bel-Mateo is the bowling haunt, and each week usually finds a substantial rooting section happily gathered to watch the pin acion. "Captain" Duane Eckert is the team's sponsor.

All Winners In Bruno Scatena's 'Restaurant Stable'

International Joe's, located in Daly City's Skyline Plaza, is just another feather in the chef's hat of prominent restaurateur Bruno Scatena. Starting with Westlake Joe's in Westlake, Bruno soon opened the magnificent Golden Coach in the Fairmont Shopping Center. International Joe's is his most recent location. All three are unique in their own way; all three are immensely successful, and all three are winners.

Lee's "Banshee" After-Dinner Social

Lee Hammond, congenial bar manager of the Villa Lounge in the Villa Hotel, has an interesting drink as a specialty — a "Banshee." Lee said he acquired the recipe while in the South Pacific during World War II. Since then, it has developed into a fairly popular drink in the States. A mixture of cream, ice cream, Creme de Coca and Creme de Banana, Lee's "Banshee" is an after-dinner relaxer that's full of "spirit."

For those who have not yet heeded Bright Lights' advice and partaken of the special $1 breakfast served at Fosters Original Pancake and Chicken House, today is the day to get with it! Hickory smoked bacon, large ranch egg, three buttermilk pancakes, syrup, butter and coffee are all included in this money-saving package seven days a week.

William C. McPike, vice president of Avis in New York, hosted a dinner-party for San Francisco friends at Lew Lehr's in the Marina. The 22 diners in the private Executive Room at Lehr's told him it was the best steak they had ever had.

Capuchino Fund Event In San Bruno

Continuing the fund raising to [illegible] new uniforms for Cap[illegible] ...anding high scho[illegible] band, the and Boosters will serve refreshments during intermissions of the school musical, "Oklahoma."

Playing four nights, March 15, 16, 22 and 23, the musical will have one long intermission so spectators may stretch their legs and enjoy coffee, punch and cookies while donating to a worthy cause.

Meeting at the Dale Slys' San Bruno home last week to complete committee details were Mr. and Mrs. Don Rogers of Millbrae, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Rupp and Mrs. Rick Seim of San Bruno.

Mr. Rupp announced that the trombone section of Cap band is donating all the coffee and cups for the four performances. This is an extension of the fund raising program with band members participating to raise the needed $10,000 for uniforms.

Horseshoe Tourney Said 'A Success'

Daly City Recreation Department Leader Bill Vince of Westlake Park recently conducted a successful horseshoe tournament for boys of high school age and below. Approximately 23 participants engaged in some "keen" horseshoe throwing competition.

In the 12 and under division, Phil Reich claimed first place honors as he edged out Greg Baker who came in second and David Soldati who took third. Little Howie Pollock picked up a "special recognition" award for his fine display of sportsmanship, determination, and enthusiasm during the tournament.

Steve Isely defeated Tony Jones to capture the championship in the 14 and under division wile Bral Reid finished strong to walk away with third place honors.

SEVERAL AREA dignitaries were among those attending the recent ribbon-cutting ceremonies that marked the opening of Behrend Jewelers on Southgate Avenue in Daly City. Pictured to right) are: Glenn Smith, firm's vice president; Bahr Behrend, president; Daly City Mayor Bernard Lycett, builder Henry Doelger, Mrs. Bahr Behrend, Michael Behrend, city attorney Al Polonsky, and councilman Frank Pacelli. Brush After Meals

Brushing after meals not only helps to remove food particles from which decay acids are formed, but also helps to remove the bacteria that are responsible for producing the acid. So get in the habit of brushing after every meal.

Brush Thoroughly

Even if you brush after every meal, success in preventing decay won't be achieved unless you brush thoroughly. Use a good toothbrush that is in good condition.

Please ask your dentist about proper brushing of teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extraction for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth, as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Saturday Program: Fete For Pacifica's Mayor

St. Patrick's Day will come early for a large segment of Pacifica residents and their families when they attend the celebration planned on Saturday afternoon. The event will be from one to five at Oceana high school with Mayor Grace McCarthy as guest of honor.

Frances and Ann Daly, twin 14-year-old daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jerimiah Daly of Fairmont will headline the all-star list of entertainers.

The Daly twins, pictured above with Mayor McCarthy both dance and sing authentic Irish selections and have won melals and high praise for their TV appearances in both Reno and New York City. Frances is a student at Oceana while Ann attends the Urusaline Boarding school in Santa Rosa. The girls were born in Dublin, Ireland and have all the talent and charm of the true Irish.

Other Pacificans on the Saturday program will include: Rung Hasselgren and his guitar; Janet Watson, celebrated folk singer; the Grigs rock and roll band; the Pacifica Square dance group; Steele Spengler and his 12 string guitar, and the vocal duo of Sue Neilson and Dianne Miribelli.

From San Francisco will come performers from the Ann Healy School of Irish Dancing as well as Clinton Smith, baritone who will sing a group of favorite Irish Ballads. Other surprise guests will be announced. The entertainment will start at 2 p.m. and there will be no admission charge for the open house which opens at One. Refreshment booths will be available stocked with hot dogs, snow cones, cola, coffee and popcorn.

Donna Starr is entertainment chairman for the pre-holiday event which will include a horse shoe pitching contest with the finals at four.

Pete Hegedus will be on hand to sketch St. Patrick's day portraits in pen and ink. Voter registrars will be on duty to register any eligible Pacifica voters.

"We're having something to interest and entertain every member of the family so plan to come early and stay late," said Jim Cooper, general chairman of the committeee to re-elect Grace McCarthy sponsors of the event. Mayor McCarthy is an incumbent city councilwoman.

Westmoor's Plastic Class Visits Firm

Westmoor's plastics class visited Oakland's Federal Sign and Signal corporation to observe applicable uses for plastics.

Being guided on the tour by E. V. Bacigalupe, manager of the plastics division, the class witnessed the step-by-step development of various commercial building signs such as the Shell Gas Company, Lucky Foods, Bank of America, and restaurant signs.

The students observed a sign in the making from beginning stage to completed form. The signs ranged in size from 4 ft. by 20 ft. to 20-!x20!!. Dies or molds from which they were developed cost as much as $15,000 anl not all the signs are mass produced.

The students attending with Westmoor plastics teacher, Mr. William Cornejo, learned about the operation of machines used in developing plastic products. They saw a 15- by 15! 100 ton press for heat-forming acrylics.

A correlation between class work and factory processes was noticed by the class. Basic methods remained the same even with the advanced machines and large scale projects. A large assortment of scraps (cut-offs) was donated to the class by the corporation. Teacher, William Cornejo said "We have been paying 50 to 60 cents a pound for cut-offs, not as good as the ones donated by Mr. Bacigalupe.

Horseshoe Tourney Said 'A Success'

Daly City Recreation Department Leader Bill Vince of Westlake Park recently conducted a successful horseshoe tournament for boys of high school age and below. Approximately 23 participants engaged in some "keen" horseshoe throwing competition.

In the 12 and under division, Phil Reich claimed first place honors as he edged out Greg Baker who came in second and David Soldati who took third. Little Howie Pollock picked up a "special recognition" award for his fine display of sportsmanship, determination, and enthusiasm during the tournament.

Steve Isely defeated Tony Jones to capture the championship in the 14 and under division wile Bral Reid finished strong to walk away with third place honors.

Sour Grapes Reason For Wrath, Not Wind?

As you may have noted by a column we did two weeks ago, we don't go around whitewashing Candlestick Park. But if a story out of Philadelphia last week doesn't cause us to appreciate the Mediocrity (as S.F. Mayor Joe Alioto puts it), it does at least remind that the grass isn't always greener, etc.

As you may remember, it was reported that high winds tore three gaping holes in the roof of the new Spectrum Arena, closing the $12 million sports show place indefinitely. It was the second time in two weeks that winds had ripped through the roof of the brand new (completed last September) arena.

If that would have happened to Candlestick, at least eight Eastern sportswriters would have immediately clicked out nasty little columns about it. But who cares about Philadelphia? There hasn't been one nasty column about the Spectrum.

After all, Philadelphia never stole a major league geam from under the nose of the Greatest City in the World, New York.

And in the final analysis, it may be sour grapes from the East, rather than high winds from West, which finally finish off poor olf Candlestick.

SHOW BIZ: If you like wild banjo-type music and people who shout in your ear a lot, then you may have been to the Red Garter in North Beach. And if you've been there, you've seen the M.C. and community sing leader, Sam Hiona.

Now, the point of this item is that it's a public service, because Sam — a slightly built and not very tough looking individual — once played football for Commerce High (now defunct) and San Francisco State (still operating, we believe). Sam was also a champion-caliber boxer in college and in the Army.

That's the public service part of the item. Sam, you see, is also the most unlikely looking bouncer in North Beach.

So our advice to you is that if you ever feel like fighting somebody at the Red Garter, walk out of the place and belt some guy across the street.

The lead banjo at the Red Garter, incidentally, is Harry Higgins, an ex-Mission High all-city pitcher.

Harry's given up the toe plate for a finger-pick and was recently rewarded for his eight years of outstanding service at the Garter with a lucrative five-year contract.

Would you call that easy pickin's?

BASEBALL: The Giants keep talking about how they're going to improve their baserunning with added speed (like Ron Hunt), but we think they would have been able to get along with last year's very adequate speed if someone would have taught players like Tito Fuentes and Jesus Alou how to harness their speed.

Alou, Fuentes, and a few others are fast enough, but the real secret of baserunning is knowing one's own capabilities and shortcomings, and being able to adjust one's ability within that framework.

There were times last year when Fuentes, for example, ran around the bases like he thought he was Bob Hayes with a tailwind. And every time he was thrown out, he looked surprised, like, man, how could he possibly have gotten mercurial me.

It's true in baseball as in many other of life's endeavors, that the rich get richer. We have in mind the real top flight pitchers who usually never have to face the other team's ace, the general managerial philosophy being, why waste a good effort? The aces, then often draw the mediocre pitching opponents.

Example: How many times did Juan Marichal face Sandy Koufax? We don't have the records available, but we'd be willing to bet it wasn't more than two-three times in their careers.

If baseball really has lost some of its "America's favorite pastime appeal," the virtual disappearance of the great pitching duels may be one of the big reasons.

Such duels, a couple of decades ago, would be publicized sometimes for weeks in advance, and would almost always take place on a Sunday afternoon, the biggest drawing day of the week.

What's happened to the duels? Television, probably, which, ironically, with all of its silly little rules, such as not showing fights, or nuts jumping from the stands to shake Willie Mays' hand, has taken the shoe business out of baseball.

Why should club managements go to the trouble of arranging great pitching duels when television allows teams to play before empty stands for more money than any of the great head-and-head duels ever produced?

All managers have to worry about nowadays is winning. They've been relieved of the burden of trying to draw a few extra thousand into the bleachers. And it's the removal of such little impurities which may someday kill baseball. Because if baseball is, as it's staunch supporters have claimed, a reflection of American life, it must be imperfect or all identification will be lost. We don't know a person in the world who lives in a test tube.

Bert Cole, the great Coast League (Seals Missions) southpaw who made it with guys like Cobb and Ruth in the '20's with Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago (now retired in San Mateo), likes to tell the story about the time the legendary trainer, Denny Carrol, worked on Bert's arm for half a game before the dry-humored Cole informed Denny that he was left-handed. Carrol had been working on Bert's right arm.

LOCAL NOTES: Once again the deadline problems of a weekly column have gotten us into trouble. We recently noted that former Terra Nova wrestler Storm Goranson was returning to defend his San Francisco State Unlimited Far Western Conference wrestling title.

This brought a protest from the family of Tom Powell, also a Gator unlimited (heavyweight) wrestler and former Westmoor Ram, who claimed that their son, not Goranson, owns the Far Western Conference unlimited wrestling title.

We're both right. We were talking about 1967, the Powell's were talking about 1968. Tom won the title at approximately the time the Post went to press. The column had been written several days, therefore, before Powell had won the title.

Hillsdale Tumbles Warriors

The joy of athletic success was never more visible than on the happy faces of the Hillsdale High School basketball team last night after they had beaten South San Francisco, 60-58, to win the Central Coast Section Region I Championship. (Jim Irvine Photo)

Two-Point Margin

Knights Advance To Section Game

By JOHN HORGAN
Post Sports Writer

Hillsdale High School's master script writer has done it again — and this time he penned a happy ending which even he hadn't foreseen.

Homer Zugelder, whose penchant for agonizingly close baketball games is already legend in San Mateo County prep annals, led his towering Knights past South San Francisco Friday, 60-58, at the College of San Mateo Men's Gymnasium before a capacity crowd of over 1,500 screaming fans.

The victory for Zugelder and Hillsdale means that the Knights now advance to the Central Coast Section as the regional Titlist next weekend at Stanford where their first night opponent will be Fremont of Sunnyvale.

The other two clubs in the four-team affair will be Del Mar and Santa Cruz, both of whom won playoff games last night along with Fremont for the right to proceed to the CCS finals.

Hillsdale's winning points came with 43 seconds left in the frenzied contest. Forward Rick Wilkinson, a demon all night for the Knights, streaked down the baseline for a lay-in which pushed the Mid - Peninsula League champions out in front for good, 59-56.

South San Francisco's Alex Smith, one of a trio of standouts for Bill Purcell's North Peninsula League winners, hit two free throws with 29 seconds left for 59-58, but Pete Jensen of the Knights canned a foul toss with 19 seconds left and the Knights managed to squeak home with the victory when S.S.F.'s Steve Murphy missed a 20-foot jumper with two seconds remaining.

However, central to the proceedings in the final period last night was the fact that one of the outstanding members of Hillsdale's cast, guard Rob Baker, had fouled out with 4:50 remaining to play. And no one, even director Zugelder, could have predicted that the Knights would respond to the challenge as they did.

"When we lost Robby, I thought we were really in trouble," exclaimed Zugelder after the game. "But John Walls and Wilkinson, along with Jensen, handled their press okay."

Asked about how he had planned for the Warriors, a noted run-and shoot outfit who had compiled a fine 20-1 mark coming into the game and had routed Catholic champ St. Ignatius last weekend, Zugelder replied with typical poise, "We played that game the way we wanted to. It makes no sense to play a whole season one way and then alter your style for a tournament. We did the same things we've been doing all year."

He added that the win was "a good one for our league." Indeed it was.

After a close first half in which neither club shot well, Hillsdale came out for the third period and took the biggest lead of the ballgame for either team, 31-21. and then South San Francisco came back strongly.

Led by the work of Murphy, Smith and Steve Venters, Purcell's crew finally managed to tie up the fray at 36-36 on a 20-footer by reserve Bob Collins. From that point, neither team could amass more than a three-point lead.

South San Francisco took the lead on three occasions in the second half at 40-39, 46-45 and 48-47, but could not take advantage of Baker's absence late in the game.

In fact, just prior to fouling out, Baker sank a 15-foot jumper to put his club in front to stay, 49-48. His mates managed to scramble and evade the Warrior press just long enough to secure the victory. Even though South S.F. put great pressure on the Knight ball handlers, Walls, Jensen and the multi-purpose Wilkinson.

But close ballgames are Zugelder's bag.

The diminutive Knight mentor, whose team is now 19-5, had high praise for all of his charges but especially Wiklinson, Baker and hard-working center Matt Oliver.

Wilkinson led the Knight scoreres with 21 points, Baker added 14 and Oliver hauled down a game-high of 19 rebounds as the Knights controlled both backboards, 42-26.

South San Francisco got 21 points from the smooth Murphy and 17 and 11 respectively from Smith and Venters.

Neither club shot too well from the charity line with the Warriors canning 16 of 25 and Hillsdale a dismal 12 out of 25.

South San Francisco hit on 20 of 49 shots from the field for 41 per cent. Hillsdale managed 45 per cent on 24 out of 53 from the floor.

Purcell, whose club completed the best season in the long basketball history of the school with a 20-2 record, did not want to discuss the defeat after the game. He merely remarked that, "I don't like to say anything after a loss because I might want to change what I said later on."

Nobody could blame him.

ALL-MPL BASKETBALL

Cap Heads Star Team

By GARRY NIVER
Post Sports Writer

To the surprise of no one, Hillsdale High School's Rob Baker made the 1968 All-Mid Peninsula League basketball team. As a matter of fact, Baker, who led the knights to the 1968 title, is the MPL's "Player of the Year."

The MPL coaches announced the team Friday, with Capuchino heading the "dream five" with two selections.

Part time hospital patient Roger Carmine and Matt Kriletich of Cap were joined by Baker, Jimmy Scott of San Mateo and Bill Rasnick of Aragon to complete the first team.

Baker, an all-around player, led the Knights to a 11-1 MPL mark. The Hillsdale senior scored 487 points this season for a 21.2 per game scoring average.

"He is one of the finest players I have ever had the pleasure to coach," said Hillsdale mentor Homer Zugelder. "He thinks team number one and Robby Baker number two," Zugelder added.

Scott, the jumping forward for the Bearcats, is one of the finest all-around athletes on the Peninsula.

"Jimmy did everything well for us this season," stated Bearcat coach Gus Hasapakis. "He shot well, passed off and was our top rebounder," he added.

Cap coach Jimmy Johnson was equal in his praise of Carmine and Kriletich. "Roger did amazing well for us considering he was out for most of the practice season," Johnson said of the 6-3½ forward. "He was a starter on my team for three years and I consider him a real fine college prospect. Carmine, who is currently suffering from mononucleosis and hepatitis, had a 14.7 average per game in league play.

"Kriletich was a real fine offensive player and was an outstanding outside shooter," Johnson stated. Kriletich, who displayed an accurate propensity for 30-foot bombs, averaged 19.4 points per game. Kriletich is the only junior on the All-MPL squad.

Rasnick, the rosy-cheeked Aragon youngster, is also a senior. The Don guard displayed a fine array of shots, including a deadly 20-foot jump shot and a drive which was nearly impossible to stop.

Burlingame and Hillsdale dominated the second team, with the Panthers putting big Steve Connolly and Tim Goll on the unit. Matt Oliver and Rick Wilkinson represented the Knights, while Crestmoor's Don Broga filled out the second team.

WHEN CHICKEN WASN'T on the menu at the regular luncheon meeting of the Daly City-Colma Lions, visiting Lions from the west of Twin Peaks group grumbled. Ever-the-obliging host, Lion Frank Spadarella, owner of Toto's, where the local Lions meet, went to his kitchen "to personally take care of the matter." Moments later he emerged with a splendid covered server which he placed before Lions Mike Perri and Tail Twister Dr. Charles A. (Chuck) Murillo of the West of Twin Peaks unit. When the lid was lifted out flew a pair of plump, indignant hens — spewing fowl language and feathers. Shown in photo are, left to right, Spadarella, Mike Perri, and Tail Twister Murillo. Host Sparadrella even provided leashes for his guests to take their dinner home.

Lions Aid Area Youth

Stub holders of Lions' Youth and Welfare Fund tickets are invited to attend the drawing for winners which will be held at the Elks' Club, 229 West Twentieth Avenue, San Mateo, at 10:30 p.m., Saturday March 30.

Rino Ceccatti, Youth and Welfare Fund chairman of the Daly City-Colma Lions said some 12,000 books of tickets had been issued by 34 San Francisco and Peninsula Lions' Clubs. These books are now being called in so that the stubs may be included when the Big Drum turns out the winning numbers. They are:

First prize — $5,000 which will be disbursed at $1,000 per year for five years.

Second prize—'68 Chevrolet Impala Sports Coupe.

Third prize—Seven days in Hawaii for two.

Fifth prize—'68 Packard Bell solid state stereo, AM-FM equipped.

Sixth prize—Bulova Calendar Accutron Space Age Timepiece.

Seventh to 16th—8-Transistor Sony Radio with earphone and case.

Ceccati said ticket holders need not be present to win, but all are invited free to the Elks' Club to witness the exciting drawing procedure.

San Mateo County winners will be publicly announced immediately following the drawing, Ceccati said.

Boys Given Chance To Play Ball

Baseball officially comes to South San Francisco youth on Saturday, March 16, as the merchant-sponsored baseball program opens its practice season with a sign-up day for Midget, 13 and under, and Pony League teams.

The baseball program, operated by the South San Francisco Youth Baseball program, and co-sponsored by the South San Francisco Recreation and Parks Department, offers boys 10 to 15 years old a chance to play baseball over the summer months. Last year's program had approximately 300 boys, on 18 teams, participating in the program.

Boys who have not turned 12 before March 1 are eligible for Midgets, boys who have not turned 14 prior to the same date are eligible for 13 and under, and boys who have not turned 16 prior to March 1 are invited to try out for Pony League teams. All cases of eligibility, player ages, are determined as of March 1, 1968.

Prospective players must furnish their own gloves and shoes, while bats, balls and other equipment is furnished by the teams. A complete list of teams, practice times and fields will appear in following releases. All boys must reside within the city limits of South San Francisco.

Any adult resident throughout South San Francisco who is interested in managing or seasonal coaching is asked to contact any member of the Baseball Managers' Association, Association President Frank Gregor, or the Recreation and Parks Department.

BROOM OR DUST! . . . "MISS HOMEBODY'S WORK IS NEVER DONE." Bay Area lovely Karen de Antoni of San Bruno swept into the contest being waged to select "Miss Homebody" 1968 to reign over the 7th Annual Home Furnishings Exposition, Friday March 15 to Sunday March 24 in Brooks Hall, San Francisco. Karen has a lot of what it takes to make a house a home, as does the home furnishings show which will exhibit the newest furniture for every room in the house and display a host of exciting new decorating ideas.

Coast Red Cross Officials Named

Paul Rushing, deputy director of Public Works for Pacifica, has accepted the chairmanship of the Coastside Region Red Cross board of commissioners for another term.

Serving with Rushing on the board are Pacifica Police Chief Neil Tremaine, vice chairman; Mrs. James Allen of La Honda, secretary, and Pacifica Fire Chief Edwin Greer, treasurer.

Newly appointed board members are Bruce Heise of Pacifica, Red Cross Youth representative; Mrs. Harry Moseley, Capt. Michael Ivanoff, Bill Mosby, and Gerald Boshoff, all of Pacifica; and James Biggs, Chief of the Half Moon Bay Fire Protection District.

They will serve with E. R. Benson of Half Moon Bay; Mrs. Ben Braly of Montara; Mrs. Ernest Holdorff of San Francisco, and Bernard Lake, Jr., of Pacifica.

Mrs. Si Moyer of El Granada was chairman of the nominating committee, which included William Drake and Mrs. Carl McCarthy of Pacifica; Jack Oakes of Pescadero, and Jim Verner of Montara.

At the region's recent annual meeting, held at Nick's Restaurant in Rockaway Beach, award pins were presented by Mrs. George Elliot of Pescadero, chairman of volunteers.

Pins for 15 years of volunteer service were awarded to Chief Greer and to Edward Girdler, fire captain of Pacifica.

George Elliot of Pescadero; Edward Schuttloffel of El Granada, and Dr. Lucille Foster of Pacifica, were given pins for ten years of voluntary service.

Award pins for five years of service were presented to Rosa Lea Roberts of San Gregorio; Major James W. Jones, Nancy Borzick, Joan Krake, Paul F. Rushing, and Chief Tremaine, all of Pacifica; Chief Biggs; Grace McCarthy, Juanita Lombardi, both of Pacifica; Kevin McDonald of Daly City; and Margaret Canadas of Half Moon Bay.

Rally for Westmoor Charities

Westmoor High School will hold a special rally on March 15, climaxing efforts on two school projects.

Featured will be Arthur C. (Bud) Washburn, representative of the Good will Industries of San Francisco who will present Westmoor with a "Good Willy," and Mrs. Virginia Peevler, assistant director of the San Mateo County Rehabilitation Center, who will accept, on behalf of the center, a $500 check from Westmoor.

Accompanying Mrs. Peevler will be the "1968 Easter Seal" child.

The "Good Willy" is to be presented to Westmoor in appreciation of the continual contributions of clothing Westmoor makes to Goodwill each Christmas. The annual clothing drive serves as a form of class competition at Westmoor, each class striving to collect and contribute more clothing than any other. The contributions from all four Westmoor classes last Christmas totaled over ten tons.

"Good Willy," a Milton Caniff drawing showing a happy young man, lunch pail in hand, moving speedily along in a wheelchair, is represented in status form atop the "Good Willy" trophy. The speed of "Willy's" wheelchair is symbolic of overcoming disability and his lunch pail symbolizes employment.

Beneath "Will's" statue there is a gold plaque where this, and future year's winners of the Westmoor clothing drive will have their class year inscribed.

In addition, several Westmoorites who were leaders in this year's drive will receive "Good Willy" pins.

Washburn, who will present the trophy and pins lost both his arms in separate accidents. He lost an arm in a hunting accident at age 16. Because of this accident, he abandoned his goal of becoming a civil engineer, quit school and went to work.

For several years, Washburn worked in his own body, fender, and paint shop which he opened after becoming a journeyman in that trade. Washburn did restoration work on antique automobiles.

Two of his restorations are now on display in Tulsa museums.

In 1966, Washburn had a second accident, this one in a car, and lost his other arm. After recovering from this accident, Washburn became interested in helping other handicapped persons.

In addition to the trophy and pins, several Westmoorites will attend a luncheon and tour at Goodwill Industries of San Francisco.

Mrs. Peevler, of the San Mateo County Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center, will accept the $500 Westmoorites have worked to collect since December when the school's project was initiated. Through Christmas collections, a morning dance held during Westmoor's Spirit Week, and a candy selling project, Westmoorites were able to raise the money.

The $500 contribution will be used to buy an auditory trainer and equip a room, in which the trainer will be housed, with drapes and carpet to make the trainer more beneficial.

Spring semester Student Body President, Don Weiden will present the check to Mrs. Peevler and the Easter Seal Child, and accept the "Good Willy."

Lynch Loses Court Plea On Firing

Dismissal of Alfred Lynch two years ago from his job as a Pacifica schoolteacher was upheld Thursday by the State District Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

An appeal will be made said Lynch's attorney, Clarence Knight of San Francisco. The issue was decided strictly on the basis of alleged abuse of sick leave privileges according to the five-page opinion. "Sick leave was not taken in good faith," stated the opinion.

Lynch's teaching certificate was revoked on January 19 by the San Mateo County School Board after seven hearings conducted during November, 1965. He was found guilty of unprofessional conduct, unfitness for teaching and failure to obey regulations.

Lynch had objected to the staging of two plays, "Cool Christmas" and "Hootenanny Christmas" as not in the traditional Christmas spirit.

N. County Cities Ask Tax Change

The North County Council of Cities Executive Committee has proposed a resolution to the membership calling for an "endorsement of the concept of exempting improvements to single family dwellings from property assessment for tax purposes."

Chairman Frank Pacelli of Daly City introduced the proposed resolution at Thursday's NCCC meeting in Pacifica, and suggested that it be considered for adoption at the May meeting.

"Progressive programs for community development can only be successful through the participation and co-operation of single family homeowners in the revitalization of their properties," the resolution states.

"Application of present property tax laws often discourages owners from making necessary improvements, remodeling or renovations to existing homes."

"The greater public interest would be best served by continual improvement and quality maintenance of existing single family residential areas," according to the proposed resolution.

It calls for exempting "full or partial value" of such improvements for a period of three years from date of completion.

$1,000 Loss In Apartment Fire in S.S.F.

Fire caused over $1,000 damage to an apartment at 217 California Avenue, South San Francisco, early Sunday.

South San Francisco firemen said Mario Delgado, his wife, and two children fled unhurt from the apartment after discovering their chesterfield in flames at 3:15 a.m.

Delgado, after making sure his family was safe, pounded on the doors of neighboring apartments to awaken those residents.

When firemen arrived the sofa had been consumed and flames had started burning walls and flooring.

The only near-casualty, according to firemen, was a mynah bird, named John, who survived smoke inhalation.

Pack 77 Award Night

The traditional Blue and Gold Diner highlighted the recent monthly meeting of South San Francisco Cub Pack 77.

Awards were given, including a one-year pin to Kenneth Robinson, Costas Vellis and Kevin Cavanaugh; silver arrows; and Edward Freitas, bear badge.

Certificates of Appreciation were given to parents who helped make the pack a success. Den 3 won the Honor Den pennant and Den 6 won the attendance for parents pennant. Ronald Piazza received top scoring for the annual uniform inspection.

Cubmaster Bob Ribinson announced his resignation, adding that Marvin Tarbox was to be the new cubmaster.

THE MARQUEE

By Barbara Bladen

No chance of being "in the dark" when it comes to the hilarious double bill currently at the Curran Theater, "Black Comedy." It's funny and that's all there is to it.

If anyone is in the dark, it's the cast of the second entry and that's the novelty of the Peter Shaffer British comedy. The delights are mostly visual as the playwright has his characters stumbling bout in an imagined darkness, after a light fuse has blown and heightening that illusion by darkening the stage when a match or a flashlight goes on. A sort of up-side-down business that's zany and bright, in spite of its title.

The evening begins with a less impressive little piece called "White Lies" in which Angela Wood plays a medium at a seaside resort, bribed to foresee problems for a young singer who has romantic interests in his manager's girl.

Here's a wordy, ineffective opener that could be improved by better diction. There is much of Shaffer's same ingenious subtlety in "White Lies" that we saw in "The Private Ear and the Public Eye" but it is the second half of the show that one can anticipate more.

The New York company must have been marvelous with Lynn Redgrave and Michael Crawford but Jennifer Tilston and Jeremy Clyde (formerly of the rock singing duo Chad and Jeremy) step amiably into their shoes to set the stage aglow with an explosively farcical tour-de-force. John Tillinger gives a sissified interior decorator a comic air.

Nothing deep about the plot: a young sculptor and his debutante girl friend awaiting the arrival of her father and a rich art collector who could change the course of the artist's fortunes. They borrow some furniture from a neighbor who is not at home but reappears in the midst of mistaken identities and dilemmas over unexpected visitors.

"Black Comedy" is an amalgam of tricky staging, shrewd direction and lively performing. Laughs like these don't come along too often.

County Scouts Brush Up On Signaling

Signaling will be an inportant progr m item for Boy Scouts in this area this month as they put into practice the morse or semaphore codes as a part of an emergency preparedness plan.

The monthly theme for the younger Cub Scouts will be "Rivers of the World" so that the eight-and nine-year-olds will learn more about rivers in this area or in other parts of the nation or the world.

John T. Montgomery, Scout Commissioner of the San Mateo County Council, Boy Scouts of America, explains, "Signaling requires concentration for Boy Scouts that tests the Scouts' perseverance — an important aspect of character development."

The highlight of the month for Boy Scouts will be an outdoor troop mobilization and a Lost-Person Search that will give Scouts an opportunity to practice signaling, use of compass, first aid, and other Scouting skills.

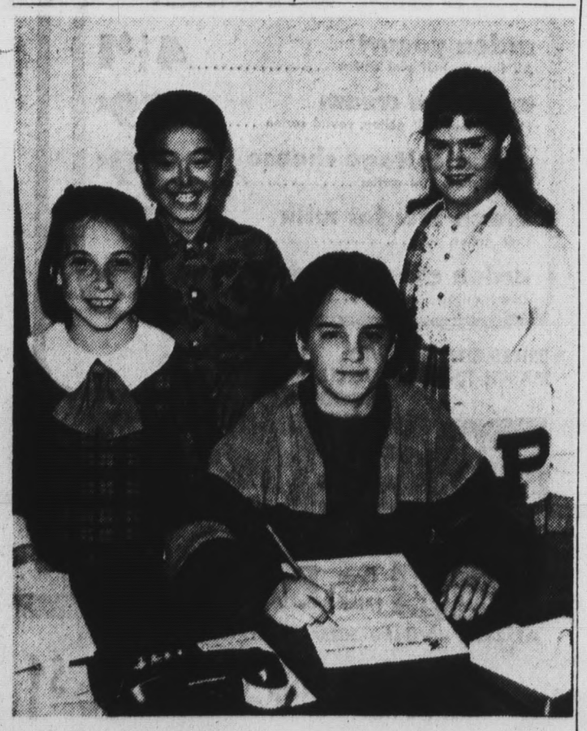
TITAN LAUNCH

LOMPOC, Calif. — First Lieutenant Gary L. George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. George of 501 Dale View, Belmont, recently helped launch a U.S. Air Force Titan II intercontinental ballistic missile from Vandenberg AFB, Calif.

Lieutenant George was deputy commander of the McConnell AFB, Kan., missile combat crew which fired the missile.

The launch was one in a series of operational testing launches conducted by the Strategic Air Command (SAC). The missile, selected at random from those on alert at McConnell, was transported — with its maintenance and launch crews — to Vandenberg.

The crews operated from the Vandenberg control center where they monitored the missile in an alert status. When the launch message was received from SAC headquarters, the crews reacted, launching the missile as they would from their home base in a combat operation.



LAST SET OF STUDENT officers at Peninsular Avenue school is shown above. The school is scheduled to become an Early Childhood Center when San Mateo Park School is completed. It has been in operation for over 67 years. Seated is president Hannah Feriante. Standing are treasurer, Maura O'Brien; secretary, Isamu Takahara and Mary Lynn Clark, vice president.

More than 50 civic and educational organizations comprising a membership of more than 11,600 citizens have endorsed the San Mateo Junior College District bond-tax proposals scheduled for vote throughout San Mateo County on Tuesday, March 26, it was announced today by Daniel E. Koshland, general chairman of the Citizens Committee working for approval of the two proposals.

The two proposals on the ballot are: (1) A $3.1 million bond issue for capital expenditures; and (2) An increase in the legal tax limitation of the district of 12 cents for three years only.

Koshland declared that it is of critical importance to every citizen of San Mateo County that the issues be approved so that Skyline College in San Bruno and Canada College in Redwood City can be completed and ready for occuapncy and that funds be provided for operation of the three camouses, including the College of San Mateo.

Some Interesting Variations of $25,000 Prize-Winning Bake-Off Recipe

Here are some interesting variations which were developed for the 19th Pillsbury Bake-Off grand prize winning recipe.

The basic recipe for the Buttercream Pound Cake may be made with either lemon or vanilla froting mix. If a lemon flavor is desired when using the vanilla frosting, lemon juice may be added during the creaming step.

You will also note there are cipes for home made fillings as well as the convenient canned fillings which can replace the poppy seed cake and pastry filling.

BUTTERCREAM POUND CAKE

2 cups butter, softened
1 package Regular Size Buttercream Lemon or Vanilla Frosting Mix
6 eggs
4 cups Best All Purpose Flourx
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 container (12 oz.) poppy seed cake and pastry filling
Confectioners' sugar or glaze
Oven 325 degrees. 10-inch tube cake

In large mixer bowl, cream butter and dry frosting mix at medium speed, until light and fluffy, at least 5 minutes. Add eggs, 1 at a time, beating 1 minute after each. Gradually beat in flour and baking powder. In small mixer bowl, combine 3 cups of the batter with poppy seed filling; blend well. Spread half of plain batter over bottom of greased 10-inch tube pan. Then alternately add spoonfuls of poppy seed batter and remaining plain batter.

Bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour and 30 to 45 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool cake in pan 15 minutes before removing. Cool completely. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar or drizzle with glaze.

Glaze: Combine 1 cup confectioners' sugar and 2 tablespoons lemon juice or milk.

High Altitude Adjustment: Add ¼ cup milk after sixth egg has been beaten in. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour and 20 to 35 minutes.

Basic Cake Variations:

1. If desired, 3 tablespoons lemon juice may be added along with Vanilla Frosting Mix.
2. Substitute 1 package Buttercream Brown Sugar Frosting Mix for Lemon Frosting Mix. After removing the 3 cups batter, add to the remaining plain batter either ½ teaspoon cinnamon and ⅛ teaspoon ground cloves, OR ¼ teaspoon maple flavoring.

To Substitute For Poppy Seed Cake and Pastry Filling:

1. Combine 1 cup poppy seed, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons honey and ½ cup ground nuts in saucepan. Cook and stir until thick. Cool completely.
2. Combine 1½ cups (2 pkgs., 3¾ oz. each) ground hazelnuts or almonds, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons light corn syrup and 2 teaspoons almond extract in saucepan. Cook and stir until thick, about 10 minutes. Cool completely.
3. Combine 1½ cups (12 oz.) pitted dates, 1-3 cup light corn syrup, 1-3 cup water, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon ground cloves in saucepan. Cook and stir until thick and no liquid remains. Cool completely; beat well.
4. Combine 1 can (12 oz.) date cake and pastry filling with ½ cup ground or finely chopped nuts; mix well.
5. In small mixer bowl, combine 1 can (8 oz.) almond paste and 2 tablespoons light corn syrup until smooth.

How Do You Like Your Fish?

Handed-down seafood recipes in the homes of many Massachusetts fishing families are apt to be prefixed by such intriguing words as "peixe," "pesce," or "fiske," depending on whose home you're in.

The seafood dishes and languages remind us that this "heartland of fish" has been greatly enriched by the seafarers of Portugal, Italy, and Norway, who landed here generations ago to harvest the offshore waters.

Although the modern Massachusetts fisherman might be several generations removed from the old country, the wonderful ways with fish still prevail in many households, and the old names are still used in many of the seafood recipes.

The Norwegians, who migrated in great numbers to New Bedford, know fish as "fiske." Their "Fiske Pudding" featuring flaked fish (flounder is the favorite in New Bedford) is a Norse classic prepared just like grandmother used to make it across the sea. This and other ethnic recipe have remained unchanged through the years, since many of the fish species caught by today's Massachusetts fishermen are the same as those once harvested by their grandfathers on the other side of the Atlantic.

Up in Gloucester port, where whiting is king, the Italian community has its share of "pesce" recipes. Like others having a bountiful ocean at their doorstep, Italian families enjoy fish at least four times weekly . . . and their "Whiting Piemontese" with its tomato sauce is a most enjoyable favorite. The name of this dish tells us, as do many others, the place of its origin in the Old World.

Today's seagoing descendants of Portuguese emigres to New Bedford call fish "peixe." Adding variety to their long list of finny "peixe" dishes, Portuguese homemakers take good advantage of their port's famous shellfish—the sea scallop. Whether featuring sea or cape scallops, "Scallops Portuguese" serves as a quick and simple introduction to Massachusetts' old country seafood cookery.

Try any of these delicious recipes with the fish and shellfish harvested off the Massachusetts coast. These dishes, originated by people who know how to get the best out of foods from the sea, have passed the test of time.

NORWEGIAN FISKE PUDDING

- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ½ cup all purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2¼ cups milk
- 6 eggs, separated
- 3 cups cooked, flaked flounder
- 1 tablespoon grated onion and juice
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons fine, dry bread crumbs

Melt 6 tablespoons butter; blend in flour, salt and pepper. Stir in milk. Stir over moderate heat until smooth and thickened. Beat egg yolks; add a little of the hot sauce; beat into remaining sauce. Stir in flaked fish and grated onion. Cool. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry; fold into fish mixture. Use remaining 1 tablespoon butter to grease 2-quart souffle dish. Coat evenly with bread crumbs. Spoon fish mixture into souffle dish. Bake at 325 degrees until deep golden brown and set, about 1 to 1¼ hours. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings. If desired, a sauce such as tomato or mushroom may be served with the pudding.

WHITING PIEMONTESE

- 4 cups water, divided
- 1 cup yellow corn meal
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons butter
- ¼ pound grated Parmesan cheese
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 2 packages (10-oz. each) frozen chopped spinach
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1½ pounds whiting fillets
- flour
- parsley
- ½ cup dry white wine
- ½ cup tomato puree

Bring three cups water to boiling. Combine remaining cold water, corn meal and one teaspoon salt; stir into boiling water. Cook until thickened, stirring often. Cover; cook over low heat 10 minutes longer. Remove from heat and stir in butter, cheese and pepper. Stir until butter and cheese are melted.

Meanwhile, cook spinach according to package directions; season with oregano, one-half teaspoon salt and lemon juice. Dust whiting fillets with flour, saute in butter or vegetable oil until golden brown. Spread the corn meal mixture (polenta) on the bottom of an oval serving dish, top with spinach. Arrange fillets on spinach. Sprinkle with chopped parsley. Add wine and tomato puree to pan juices; blend well. Pour over fish. Makes six to eight servings.

NEW PUMPKIN CHIFFON PIES

1½ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice
1½ cups milk
6 large eggs, separated
1 can (1 pound and 14 ounces) pumpkin
½ cup granulated sugar
2 nine-inch graham cracker pie shells
Sweetened whipped cream

In a three-quart metal mixing bowl, thoroughly stir together the gelatin, brown sugar, salt and pumpkin pie spice. Stir in milk. With a whisk, beat in the egg yolks, then the pumpkin Place the bowl over a saucepan of boiling water; cook, stirring often, until heated through and gelatin and sugar have dissolved—about 10 minutes.

Chill until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until they hold soft slightly bent peaks. Gradually beat in granulated sugar; fold into gelatin mixture. Turn into pie shells; chill until firm. Before serving, cover each pie with whipped cream. Makes nine-inch pies.

Canned Beet Juice Helps Pickle Eggs

Celery Soup Rolls
Pickled Eggs with Green Salad

PICKLED EGGS

Juice from a 1-pound can of sliced or julienne beets
1 cup cider vinegar
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
6 whole cloves
1 stick cinnamon
6 hard-cooked shelled eggs

Into a one-quart saucepan pour the beet juice. Add the remaining ingredients except the eggs. Slowly bring to a boil, stirring a few times; boil gently for 10 minutes. Remove the cloves and cinnamon. Put the eggs in a one-quart jar; pour the hot spiced mixture over them. Press a wad of transparent plastic wrap over the eggs to keep them submerged. Cover and refrigerate overnight for mild-flavored light-color eggs or for two to four nights for spicy-flavored dark-color eggs. Makes three generous servings.

RECIPE NOTES:

Some eaters may want to sprinkle salt on their eggs. The texture of the egg white changes when it stand in the juice mixture for several days, becoming slightly "rubbery"—as pickled eggs are supposed to be.

The Latest Variation Of Applesauce

Meat Loaf with Cheese Sauce
Potatoes Snap Beans
Pineapple Sauce Beverage

PINE-APPLE SAUCE

2 pounds 8 medium McIntosh apples
1 can 1 pound, 4½ ounces crushed pineapple in extra heavy syrup
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ to ½ cup sugar

Peel, quarter and core apples; slice thin; turn into a large saucepan about four quarts. Drain pineapple; pour pineapple syrup over apples. Over medium heat bring to a boil. Boil briskly, stirring several times, until apples are soft—about seven minutes. Remove from heat. Mash apples with a fork. Mix in the drained pineapple, salt and sugar. Cool; cover tightly and chill. Makes about five cups.

COLE SLAW

Finely grated cabbage and dairy sour cream have been going together for a long time, making a cole slaw served often in many families. For a change, add a handful of raisins or a half cup of grated carrot or both.

Usual mixture is 1 cup dairy sour cream, 2 teaspoons cider or tarragon vinegar, ½ to 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper for each 4 cups shredded cabbage. Toss lightly. Serve on lettuce leaf or other greens.

Treat the Family to a Special St. Patrick's Day Dessert

"Peppermint Fruit Slices" is a wonderful opportunity to treat your family to a special St. Patrick's Day dessert and fill them with wonderfully nutritious food at the same time. Filled with the sparkling goodness of canned fruit cocktail these colorful slices may be served with shamrock-shaped cookies to carry out the St. Patrick's Day theme.

Peppermint Fruit Slices

¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup hot water
6 tablespoons sugar
Few grains salt
½ cup syrup from canned fruit cocktail
1 cup drained canned fruit cocktail
1 egg white
Few drops peppermint extract
Drop of green food coloring

Soften gelatin in lemon juice and dissolve in hot water. Blend in 4 tablespoons sugar, salt and ½ cup syrup from fruit. Chill 1 cup of this mixture until slightly thickened. Fold in well drained fruit cocktail. Chil in small loaf pan. Chill remaining gelatin mixture until slightly thickened. Beat egg white until stiff and gradually beat in remaining 2 tablespoons sugar. Fold into gelatin. Blend in flavoring and tint lightly with green coloring. Spoon over clear layer. Chill until firm. Unmold and slice to serve. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

SHORTCAKE DESSERT

Make a spring short cake dessert for the family. Bake crisp waffles or toast the frozen ines. Blend together whipped cream, soft cream cheese and dash of grated lemon rind. Spread on waffles. Top with drained canned cling peach slices and another waffle. Cut in sections to serve.

EXOTIC DESSERT

Fluffy rice pudding has been a favorite for generations. Make it an exotic dessert. Whip 1 cup whipping cream sweetened with powdered sugar and flavored with a dash of ginger. Fold this into 4 cups cooked, chilled rice with 11 cups well-drained fruit cocktail. Heap high in serving dishes.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY SALAD

Shamrock-green salads will start your St. Patrick's Day dinner menu. Dissolve a 3 oz. package of lime-flavored gelatin in 11 cups boiling water and chill until slightly thickened. Fold in 1 cup cottage cheese and 1' cups well drained fruit cocktails. Spoon into shamrock-shaped molds and chill. For topping, blend mashed avocado into sour cream.

EASY LUNCHEON

Prepare the piquant peaches a day before when you plan to serve this easy help-yourself luncheon. Drain a 1 lb. 13 oz. can of cling peach halves. Add ½ cup each brown sugar and vinegar, 2 sticks cinnamon and 1 teaspoon each whole cloves and allspice to syrup. Bring to boil, add peaches and simmer 5 minutes. Chill fruit overnight in syrup. To serve arrange peach halves in crisp lettuce cups on a large platter or tray with these assorted fillings. Cottage cheese with sliced almonds, tuna-celery mixture or flaked seafood salad.

If onions begin to sprout, they should be immediately wrapped in aluminum foil and placed in the refrigerator. They will keep this way until you use them. Always make sure that they are tightly wrapped, so their odor won't escape and ruin the other foods in the refrigerator.

ST. PATRICK'S SHERBET

Buttermilk gives tantalizing new flavor to this lemon sherbet, made green for mid-March celebrants of St. Patrick's Day. For each 4 servings: Mix 2 cups buttermilk, ¼ cup lemon juice, ½ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons grated lemon peel, ½ cup light corn syrup and a few drops (handle with caution) green food coloring; stir until sugar is dissolved.

Freeze in refrigerator freezing tray with control set at coldest until firm around the edges but slushy in the center. Empty into chilled bowl and beat smooth with electric or hand beater. Put back to freeze again; and again beat smooth. Repeat freezing and beating once more, if desired.

CHEESE SPREADS

Three dairy foods, sour cream, cream cheese and cottage cheese, probably go into more dips and dunks, spreads and the like than any other type of food.

—Combine cottage cheese, finely cut-up anchovies, paprika and a dash of cayenne. Serve on tiny crackers.

—Combine cottage cheese with flaked salmon or tuna, lemon juice, chopped stuffed olives and—or chopped pickles, minced parsley and blue cheese; serve on rye bread, preferably the buffet type.

—Combine finely cut-up dried beef, grated onion and finely chopped pickles with cottage cheese. Serve on crackers or buffet rye.

Chutney and Apples Will Make Exotic Recipes to Try

Just as each variety of apple specific uses, so do the different kinds of storage methods. Rome Beauty, favored for baking and culinary uses is kept in special "C.A." storage rooms in Washington State's famous apple regions.

These controlled atmosphere vaults are just that: both atmosphere and temperature are controlled for maximum benefit to the condition of the apple.

However, the Washington Winesap, an all-purpose, hardy apply variety with a tart, wine-like flavor, can be held from harvest-time in either conventional storage or in "C.A."

All three Washington apple varieties are in our markets now and we've selected two recipes today featuring this versatile fruit combined with the East Indian condiment, chutney. The Honey'd Apple - Chutney Cups may be served hot or chilled as a meat accompaniment, topped with sour cream or yogurt.

As a dessert, and, chilled, as a salad with a sour - cream - mayonnaise dressing to which a little nutmeg has been added. The Himalaya Apple - Chutney Mold boasts a white crown which incorporates the dressing in the mold. The body of this delicious salad is made with a ginger - flavor beverage, gelatin, fresh apple bits and chutney.

HONEYED-APPLE CHUTNEY

4 Washington State Apples, unpared
½ cup chutney
¾ cup honey
¼ cup water
1 tsp. cinnamon

Wash apples. Cut three of the apples into halves crosswise. Remove sufficient pulp and core to make apple cups ½-inch thick on sides and bottoms. Reserve pulp. Place apple cups in a vegetable steamer or in a wire strainer or colander, place in a pan above 1½ to 2 inches rapidly boiling water. Cover and steam apple cups about 5 minutes or until easily pierced with a fork. Pare and core remaining apple. Chop apple and pulp reserved from apple cups, add chutney. Heat honey, cinnamon, and water. In shallow baking dish fill apple cups with chutney mixture, and pour honey spice mixture over apples. Broil 5 to 7 minutes or until well-glazed, basting frequently with liquid mixture. Serve hot or chilled wih lamb, poultry, pork, beef, veal or fish. Serves 6.

HIMALAYA APPLE-CHUTNEY

1 pkg. unflavored gelatin
½ cup ginerale
¾ cup mayonnaise
¼ tsp. salt
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
¼ cup chopped nuts
2 3-oz. pkgs. lemon gelatin
3 cups gingerale (1 pt., 12 oz.)
1 cup chutney
2 cups Washington State apples, peeled and finely chopped

Soften the unflavored gelatin in ½ cup of the gingerale and dissolve over hot water; cool. Combine mayonnaise, sour cream, and salt; blend with gelatin. Chill until partially set. Fold in stiffly - beaten egg white, add nuts. Spoon into an 8-cup mold. Chill until almost set. Dissolve lemon gelatin in 3 cups gingerale over hot water. Chill until slightly thickened. Add chutney and chopped Washington apples. Pour over first mixture, which should be firm. Chill entire mold until firm; then unmold, and garnish with slices of apple dipped in lemon juice and salad greens.

New Officers Elected By Homeowners

Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bul) Lycett was guest speaker and administered the oath of office to the newly elected officers.

Lycett praised the association and credited it with "helping the city to solve many problems" which have arisen in recent years.

Others were Gil Toscano (treasurer): Pegi Brandley (recorder); Karl Evans (correspondence); Thelma Cranna (sergeant-at-arms).

Directors of the association for the coming year are: G. Delfino and Arleen Pleisch (Teresa Terrace); Frank Vargas and Cal Dunow (Callan Heights); Frank Loretta and Anthony Aiello (Sherman Heights).

MOTHS

Freeway Money Decision

As predicted for some time, the "big money boys back East" will decide where goes Junipero Serra Freeway.

That's "big money" as in Washington, "boys" as in Alan Boyd, U.S. Secretary of Transportation, and "freeway" as in the missing four-mile link between San Mateo and Woodside.

Boyd told San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto, S.F. Supervisor Terry Francois, and S.F. Public Utilities Mgr. James K. Carr yesterday that he will do the deciding, since the city and the State of California have been unable to come to terms in ten years of discussing.

He said he would make the decision in ten days.

Boyd noted that, after all, the Department of Transportation is providing 90 per cent of the money for Junipero Serra Freeway as a vital link in the nation's network of freeways.

Mayor Alioto asked Boyd to support the city's "ridge route" in company with Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, and Secretary of Housing and Urban Development Robert Weaver.

"With our respective backgrounds as attorneys, and experience in the settlement of complex disputes," he said. "I am certain that working together we can settle this matter once and for all."

Alioto said the city's offer to provide the watershed land free, on the ridge route, would make the city's choice not only preferable but less expensive than the state's desired "straight line" routing along the edge of Upper Crystal Springs Lake.

MRS. CAUDILL OF SAN FRANCISCO: "I SAVED BETWEEN $800 AND $900!"

"My husband, Reverend Caudill and I, had been looking for a new car for quite a while and our neighbor bought at Gateway, and told us about his good deal. So we thought we would try it. We got a very good trade for our old car. We have talked to other people and I think we got a very good deal . . . between $800 and $900 maybe. It was certainly worth shopping here at the New Gateway Chevrolet."

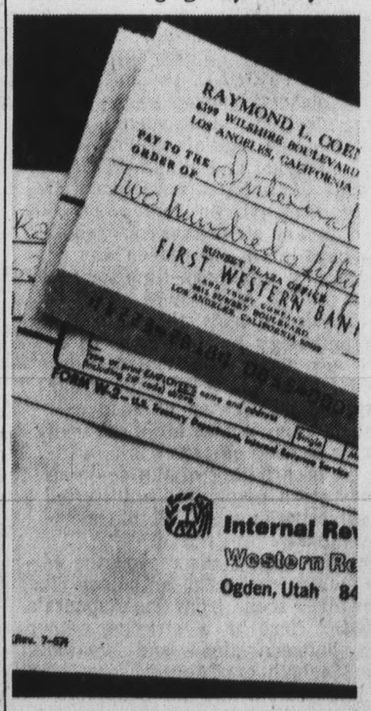
When you have a No-bounce account, First Western Bank becomes your automatic lending agency. So if you write a check for more money than you have in your account, our computer knows it and immediately makes a deposit to cover that check.



That deposit is really a loan, and naturally we expect you to pay it back. But there's no big rush. We'll even skip the monthly service charge if you pay us back before the next billing date.

This is why a No-bounce account is better than all the credit cards in the world put together. It's honored in many places a credit card isn't. It also puts cash in your pocket when emergencies arise.

By the way, April 15th is the most predictable emergency we know of. Give us a call while there's still time.

Barriers Come Down

VOX POPULI ETC. — Daly City Mayor Bernard Lycett said last week he was extremely pleased at the interest residents of the Dorchester Drive area have shown concerning that controversial traffic arrangement there. Crews are already at work getting everything in order to remove the barrier (perhaps it's already done??), install three stop signs and otherwise initiate a whole new traffic thing for the resident-motorists of the area — The Voice of the People, etc., etc.

NOW DON'T EVERYBODY rush over to South City to see Jackie Gleason . . . because like as not he won't be there. Fact is, the few scenes to be shot in The Industrial City (we read the sign on the hill) concern a couple of hippies being dragged into the mayor's office and . . . well, you go see the movie when it's released. So once again folks, don't be disappointed when the famed actor doesn't appear — that's show biz

AND NOW WE TURN our cameras (and attention) towards the Cow Palace where we find some officials huddled around a formica-topped table sweating out San Francisco Mayor Joe Alioto's proposal to build a convention-sports center in, of all places, DOWNTOWN San Francisco. What will it cater to, the bewildered officials ask each other (after getting over the shock of how much the state just spent for remodeling the CP); What will we do with the Old Palace? Where will all the livestock fanciers go to see their favorite livestock? Listen in for the answers to these and other questions facing the aging Queen of the Exhibition Halls.

IT'S SO NICE to see at least some cities haven't thrown in the ABAG towel yet. They might when they get the final answer on what's what, but for the time being most officials — at least in the North County — are standing pat. 'Course Daly City COULD say "We told ya so . . ." And they would be right. They did! But they are taking a cool calculated look at the regional organization before making their move — and so are many others.

NEW TARGET DATE just released for that BARTD station in Daly City — November 1970. Although we're NOT from Missouri, we gotta be shown. Unless those rapid transit people can rapidly fill up their depleted coffers with cash, there won't even be a San Francisco track, let alone a Daly City stop.

FLASHY FLASH — We got out our Abacus and figured out the following: If no one files in the race against assemblyman Leo Ryan, and city councilman Micheal DeBernardi swings one per cent of the vote cast in the last election on a write-in (about 880 votes) he could get to run in the finals in November. And our last check revealed no one had filed yet. Are you confused? So are we, but it's true

CHECKING BACK through the news clippings, we ran across an item dated April 13, 1966 in which the Serramonte School site was compared to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BART). In the past two years this association has been dropped. Nowadays some folks compare it to Candlestick Park.

WEDGY DEPARTMENT — Jack Saenz, the 27-year-old assistant pro at Lake Merced golf course was nursing a bruised arm the other day. Seems a caddy refused to turn down a blaring radio and when the pro turned it off for him, the caddy pulled out a wood and used it as a club. When the wood broke, the caddy next unsheathed a five iron and went after Saenz who picked up a refuse can cover and defended himself. The pro's left arm was injured from warding off the blows. Police said the 19-year-old suspect ran off (went to get a putter??).

DALY CITY WILL HONOR 37 employes at its 1968 Service Awards Dinner to be held at the War Memorial Building on Hillside Boulevard, March 22.

AND DON'T FORGET "Candidates Night" at the Colma K-6 School on East Market Street in Daly City, March 18, at 7:30 p.m., sponsored by the Hillside Homeowners' Association. . .

Speaking of the HHA, during their get-together the other p.m. at the Presidio, guest speaker, D.C. mayor Bud Lycett quieted a heckler in the audience by telling the one about the drunk who persisted in interrupting a speaker, "You're stupid." The irritated speaker waited until the drunk shouted, "You're stupid," once again and retaliated with, "I may be stupid but you're drunk." To which the heckler replied, "But tomorrow I'll be sober and you'll still be stupid." It's a funny one, but I don't get the connection either

'When Michael Calls'

"When Michael Calls" is catching on all over the country — It's clean fun with built in mysteries to chill your spine and shake your toe nails.

There's a voice of a child that died years ago, there are bees that inject poison into their owner, there's a shadowy figure that appears in the fog, a girl that retreats to a tree house, and a deaf-mute boy.

There is young love that ends in tragedy, and most of all a detective that rides around on a motor scooter.

"When Michael Calls" is eerie and haunting, a change of pace for author John Farris who has written three other novels of contemporary times.

"When Michael Calls" represents a trend in mystery books and in T.V. programs and movies towards materials that can be enjoyed by the whole family.

"Suspense, a Treasury For Young Adults" edited by Sean Manley and Gogo Lewis is another.

HERE ARE the classics of mystery — among them such hair raisers as Poe's "the Haunted Place," Agatha Christie's "the Dressmakers Doll," Elléry Queen's "My Queer Dean," Arthur C. Clarke's "The Haunted Space Suit —" Hawthorne, Emily Bronte, Coleridge, Ambrose Bierce, Shakespeare, Charles Dickens, Saki, and Phyllis Bentley are a few of the authors represented.

Although the editors address their book to Young Adults, every selection there in was written for adult readers.

"Suspense, they write, is a matter of life itself. From the time we are small children to the time we are quite old, we are suspended between the things that create mysteries: changes, uncertainty, confusion, our Age of Anxiety and our fearful weapons."

"Suspense," "is with us every day of our lives. We see it blazing forth in the front pages of our newspapers. We see it reflected in the books we read — in our desire for spy stories, suspense stories, detective stories — and our fascination with the same genre on television and in the theater."

OF ALL PEOPLE, the authors believe, adolescence enjoy suspense stories the most, for "adolscence is one of the greatest periods of suspense." Between childhood and adulthood we are in a kind of limbo — bewildered, frequently confused, on some days delighted, and on other days miserable."

Perhaps this is the reason why adolescence is a wonderful time for reading and for T.V. and movies.

Suspense stories, the editors of the anthology believe, help us to feel our fears and express our needs. "There is a little bit of our fears in the stories of suspense, that we enjoy a little bit of our own horror in each detective tale, a little bit of bristling of the scalp in every ghost story, and a little bit of shivering in every tale of the supernatural."

Perhaps this is the reason the editors include in their anthology the sleepwalker scene from Shakespeare's Macbeth. Here is a strange nether world between sleep and awaking, Lady Macbeth experiences something that is universal and unexplainable — especially with adolescents — a nightmare — "an apparition that grows from something buried in the conscience."

Proved in Europe

Incineration of S.F. Garbage

By Don Grierson

The logical, feasible and economical answer to San Francisco's garbage disposal dilemma is "clean incineration" as it has been practiced in Europe for several years.

This is the conclusion arrived at by members of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce Evnironmental Pollution Committee after first-hand inspection of more than a dozen European disposal plants, and the position was formally adopted by the chamber in a report released last week.

Frank Sebastian, chairman of the three-man committee, told delegates to a North County Council of Cities meeting in Pacifica Thursday "the necessary technology for clean incineration is at hand, and all we lack is public recognition of the need."

"Because of their earlier confrontation with the need to conserve land area, European cities have moved far ahead of the United States in the field of garbage disposal," he said.

Far Ahead

"They have perfected plants which, in most instances, far exceed the requirements on air pollution set forth by the state and federal governments and the Association of Bay Area Governments," Sebastian said, "and have conclusively proved the operation of these facilities to be economically practical."

Sebastian and two other members of his committee, Andrew Ariey and Bradley B. Garretson, have spent more than a year in a disposal research project which included inspection tours of plants in England, France, Holland, West Germany, and Norway.

"On - the - scene" inspections were necessary to observe first hand the amount of smoke plume emitted from the various plants, and to determine economic feasibility and other crucial factors, Sebastian said.

Cost No Greater

"We found that most of these plants, while operating with utmost efficiency from the point of view of air pollution, provided disposal service at a cost no greater than the expense of the San Francisco scavengers' present fill-and-cover operations at Brisbane," he said.

Sebastian said a 2,000-ton per day "clean incineration" plant can be constructed in San Francisco at a cost which will require a customer fee increase of no more than $2 per year.

"Through sale of steam and salvaged products from the plant's operations, many of the European facilities are operating at a profit with collection rates lower than our own," he said.

No attempt is made to hand-select salvage material at the European plants, he said.

Metals are detected magnetically after the materials are incinerated, and glass and other residue is sifted out for sale as fill material.

By-products from the plants return an average of $3.25 per ton of refuse processed, he said.

Most of the modern European plants are entirely enclosed, and the operation is so clean that residents are attracted to the plant areas in some instances, instead of regarding them as a nuisance, according to Sebastian.

A New City

"In Frankfurt, Germany, a whole new city has sprung up around the new incinerator plant," he said, "because of industry generated by the production of steam and other products."

"An incinerator plant can be as aesthetically acceptable as any modern industrial plant. Odor, ugliness and dirty stack effluent are gone. Any accessible site in an industrial area is satisfactory," Sebastian said.

The chamber and the city's two scavenger companies are working on a proposal to construct a plant at the southern end of the Butchertown Industrial Park, adjacent to the P. G. and E. steam generating plant.

P.G. and E. has offered a 20-year contract to purchase the by-product steam generated by the incinerator, and Sebastian said the plant could be completed before the scavengers' dumping contract with the city of Brisbane expires five years from now.

The Dolwig Staggered Working Hour Plan

No one enjoys the peak hour traffic jams on California's freeways, a fact to which thousands of San Mateo County motorists who use the Bayshore Freeway could fervently testify. A real solution to this problem would be genuinely welcome.

But a solution proposed by San Mateo County Senator Richard J. Dolwig, who has introduced legislation requiring private businesses and industrial concerns to stagger their working hours, falls far short of the mark.

Dolwig proposes to create four regional commissions in various areas of the state, including the Bay Area, to determine and order working hours. His bill would make violation of the orders of one of these commissions a misdemeanor and each day's violation would constitute a misdemeanor.

Senator Dolwig does not seem to have taken cognizance of the enormous impact his proposal could have on industry, business, transport schedules and labor contracts — to say nothing of the disruptive effects on the home and family life of workers in all categories.

Modern industry and business is extremely complex, and efficient operation is closely linked to timing schedules that have been long and carefully established. Many of these schedules are interdependent. They include such vital matters as the scheduling of power and fuel consumption; the planned arrivals and departures of materials and commodities and of outgoing shipments that are, in turn, needed by still other businesses and industries on a time basis; and the timetables of freight and transport companies and other service industries and businesses ranging from corner lunchrooms to the big janitorial and maintenance firms.

Long-established contractural agreements with labor, many of them involving wage differentials based upon the hours of beginning and quitting times, are crucial in many industries and businesses.

On the domestic front, Senator Dolwig has said:

"The five o'clock traffic jam has become a way of life. By the time commuters reach their homes their dinners are cold."

This is occasionally true, but the reader can picture for himself the tempest and chaos that would erupt in thousands of homes if meal hours were drastically changed, wives had to cook two separate breakfasts for the husband and the children, regular marketing and shopping hours were set askew, social life was disrupted, and favorite television shows were missed. The even tenor of our ways is not to be easily upset.

A questionable relief of jams on the freeways does not seem worth the cost of upsetting everything and everybody else in the state. Senator Dolwig's bill needs a quiet burial in committee.

Mail Fraud Costs

MAIL fraud is estimated to cost the American public $500 million yearly. Postal authorities do not have the power to recover money or property lost through mail fraud but they do gather information and evidence. Out of 8,000 possible mail fraud cases investigated in recent years, in spite of the fact that only one out of ten victims of mail fraud will report they have been cheated, 700 arrests were made and nearly 5,000 schemes discontinued.

Although the Federal Trade Commission reported that the mamajority of mail order insurance companies operate in a proper and forthright manner, a recent investigatio nof alleged misleading and deceptive practices in the mail order insurance industry involved 72 companies.

Insurance sold by mail consists mainly of health and accident insurance although some life insurance is sold by mail. A person should be particularly wary of a mail order policy if the company is not licensed in the state he or she lives in.

COMPANIES WHICH sell by mail, and are not licensed in the state into which they mail advertisements, are beyond the scope of the state's insurance regulations. These companies are, however, subject to commission regulations and are the only ones which the Federal Trade Commission can regulate.

Millions of dollars are paid to medical quacks who use the mails to advertise. Their victims are of all ages — from the teenager who desperately want relief from acne, the woman who wants to lose weight by taking pills, the frightened cancer victim, the crippled arthritic — all want to believe in the claims of the medical quack. Ironically, the miracles of science and medicine today seem to give more credibility to the extravagant claims of the quack

DENTURES, nor eyeglasses should never be ordered through the mail. Both should be fitted by a qualified person.

Real estate swindlers advertise worthless land in beautiful brochures. Prospective buyers should carefully check the exact location of the land offered, the water supply, the area, etc. before buying.

Chain letters which require payment of money are illegal and should be reported to postal authorities. Unordered merchandise such as cards, books, pens, neckties, etc. sent out by charity organizations should be checked as to how much of the contribution actually reaches the charity after the fund raiser has taken his cut.

Newcomer Benny Breaks in Big

A young newcomer by the name of Jack Benny ended a week's engagement at Circle Star Theater last week. Give the guy a break, he works hard, has a lot of funny material and deserves to be recognized.

You may have heard of him, he's been around for awhile in other media. Actually he's done stage work before but it probably before your time. Well, by some miracle of advertising, the kid drew a crowd. About 3500 to be exact but it was too dark for me to count the extra chairs at the back of the auditorium, give or take a few belly laughs here and there, I'd say he'll be heard of again if he keeps up the good work.

Nothing stupendous or revolutionary about his act. As a matter of fact, the guy's an egotist. He gets up on the stage alone, tells a few long, drawn out jokes and stares at the audience a lot. And they laugh. Must be a claque.

Wonder where he picked up all that savoir faire? He wears his clothes well, plays a fair violin, drops a lot of names and has a strange power over his audience. They keep laughing, and clapping and holding their breath while he's getting to the point.

Someone said he'd done a few radio and television shows, so I suppose they're on to his style. Hard to explain really. I laughed more than I've laughed at a comedian in ages but couldn't tell you why. Maybe because the kid is trying and talked slow enough so we could hear all the punch lines. That must be it.

HE NEEDS MORE CONFIDENCE REALLY. Booked another kid onto the act by the name of Bill Medley who has a very pleasant singing voice in a rock and soul sort of way. Then there was this darling little 13 year old girl who asked for his autograph and then played the pants off Benny's violin. He's a good sport. Gave her one of her own. And then they started competing. If he's been in show business any length of time, he'd know better than to play opposite another kid. They always steal the show.

Her name is Doris Dodge and she could probably have stolen the whole darn theater out from under Sammy Lewis' nose. She's that sharp. Real cute and talented too.

Their duet was "Getting To Know You" but she showed him up by doing a lot of fancy fiddling while he kept yelling "shut up and wipe that smile off your face." Not very polite in public but I guess he didn't know she played so well.

He asked her what she could play and she answered "Bach's Double Concerto" and he said, "It's been done to death, everyone's humming it these days," so they played something else. Actually he's right.

I'M SURE HE'LL DO WELL. He seems like a thrifty type, even held up a sign that read "Intermission, soft drinks 25 cents" so I guess he'll get ahead in the world. Someone said he's 39 years old but he looks more like 40 to me.

Thought him a cheery chap and figured I'd help him out by buying a few tickets for the family during the week. Somebody got there before me. Seems they're almost all gone. Hope the kid gets a break in the big time. He's pretty funny and he mentioned having a clan, just like Frank Sinatra comprised of Spring Byington, Edward Everett Horton and Walter Brennan.

Maybe he can work them into the act, just to help him along. Not that he needs it, but it's a tough business and maybe he'll pick up a few pointers from experienced acquaintances.

Jack Benny. Remember the name. He plays the violin.

Three Hurt in Plunge

Three workmen were injured Friday morning when a platform reportedly slipped off a forklift at the Macy Warehouse construction site on El Camino Real in South San Francisco.

James Astone, 45, and Louis Sanders, 27, of San Francisco and Robert Derricott, 21, of 1217 Floribunda, Burlingame, were taken to Mary's Help Hospital by Mercy ambulance about 9:45 a.m.

Ambulance driver Peter Durigan said the three men apparently fell about 20 feet onto a concrete floor. They were pinning from the forklift platform.

All three victims were transferred from Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City to Mt. Zion Hospital in San Francisco following emergency treatment.

James Astone and Robert Derricott were reported in satisfactory condition, according to a Mt. Zion spokesman. Robert Derricott was treated for minor injuries and released.

Smokey Fire In Daly City

A stubborn, smokey fire in a Daly City home last Firday. caused an estimated $14,000 in damage — mostly from smoke.

Firemen battled the blaze for more than three hours at 47 Zita Court, starting at 7:45 p.m.

The fire was first reported to the San Francisco fire department and several minutes later to the Daly City station. The time lapse is apparently responsible for the head start the fire had inside the home before the arrival of fire fighting units, a department spokesman said.

Upon arrival of the fire department, the victim, Mrs. Jack Lopez, had fled the house with her two cats. No one was injured in the blaze.

Fire investigators said the cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Stabbed, He Crashes Car

A San Francisco man lost control of his automobile on Farnee Court in South San Francisco and ran into a house early Wednesday, after a female passenger in the car allegedly stabbed him in the neck with a knife.

Police said George T. Lloyd, 39, was treated for a puncture wound at Kaiser Hospital after the incident occurred at 2:30 a.m. He was later released.

Imogene Potter, 42, of San Francisco, the passenger, was arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Police said Lloyd told them he was driving near the intersection of Farnee Court and Callan Boulevard when the woman attacked him without warning.

He had met his companion earlier in the night at a Mission District bar, officers said.

Cat Attacks D.C. Woman, Is Sought

Mrs. Jacqueline Pahlka, 20 San Miguel Avenue, said a large yellow cat entered the front door of her home on February 28 and attacked her "without provocation."

If the cat is not found by Saturday, Mrs. Pahlka will have to undergo a series of painful rabies shots, authorities said.

She said the animal entered the house while her children were playing around the front door, and sprang at her from a distance of about three feet.

She received puncture wounds and scratches on her arm and had to "pry the cat off," authorities said.

The animal was a large pale yellow cat, and "quite beautiful," according to Mrs. Pahlka.

Anyone sighting a cat fitting the description should contact Mrs. Pahlka, Daly City police or the Humane Society.

Inactivity On Firehouse Hit By Candidate

David Friedenberg, candidate for city councilman in South San Francisco has sharply criticized the City Council for its inactivity which "could cost the lives of residents in the Westborough West Park section of the city."

Friendenberg, accused the city of stalling on construction of a firehouse for which funds were previously budgeted.

"Do we have to wait until someone dies before we get some action?" the council candidate asked. "This firehouse was promised in October of 1963!"

It recntly took 11 minutes for a fire engine to reach a fire in the West Park area on a Saturday morning, he said.

"How long would it take if there was a fire during the peak traffic hour when cars are backed up along Westborough Boulevard?" he asked. "Something must be done! And it must be done now."

"In addition to jeopardizing the lives and property of citizens, the council's failure to provide adequate fire protction could cause an increase from ten to twenty per cent in fire insurance rates for the entire city of South San Francisco," Friedenberg said.

"I urge the city council to give this area of concern immediate attention," Friendenberg said. "If the council members don't, they may be reading their mistakes in the obituaries columns."

Sewer Line Issue Cleared At Coastside

The wandering sewer line under a new home now under construction on Grand Boulevard that has had the Half Moon Bay City Council worried for a week was resolved last night at a study meeting when it was decided to draw up an agreement to leave it where it is and simply replace it if it ever needs repairs.

Developer Joe Capps, who is building a house on the site, agreed to this alternative after lengthy discussion. City Atty. Stanley Norton is to draw up the necessary documents, which would give the city permission to leave the line there and replace it if needed.

The eight-inch line is believed to be a foot outside its easement and directly under the soon-to-be-built house foundation. It's 12 feet deep so there's no danger to the ground stability under the house, the council has been told. An engineering error has been blamed for the misplaced line.

The council also authorized the staff to draw up papers for purchase of a new police car through the state, at a cost of $2,241. This would be a heavy-duty Dodge built to Highway Patrol specifications.

Child, 4, Hurt By D.C. Car

A four-year-old Daly City girl was injured when she was hit by a passing car on Higate Drive Saturday.

Christine M. Marquardt, of 390 Higate Drive, was struck by a car driven by Sylvester A. Baberer, 48, of 74 North Mayfair Avenue, Daly City at 4:30 p.m. in front of her home.

The driver told police the child ran from between two parked cars directly into the path of his vehicle and he was unable to stop in time.

Use Permit For Drive-in OK'd in D.C.

Use permits were approved by the Daly City council Monday for two new companies — Quality Distributing and A & W Root Beer.

Both permits had been held up for some two months pending studies and certain necessary improvements.

The A & W request touched off a minor controversy among some residents of the Lake Merced-Alemany Boulevard section of Daly City, but a letter from the Doelger Corporation supporting the firm apparently swayed the council's thinking on the matter and the permit was approved.

Residents had expressed the fear that the drive-in restaurant would be a center for unruly elements and also generate noise and trash. But Doelger Corporation's letter pointed out a special policing policy would insure that the operation was a smooth and quiet one.

In his letter, U.R. (Jack) Kendree, managing director for Doelger Corporation, pointed out the new business would enhance the corner of Lake Merced and Alemany and would be "a great improvement over the present operation. . . ."

The new structure for A & W will cost approximately $100,000 and will be landscaped and have "constant police protection from 9 p.m. until closing.

Meanwhile, Quality Distributing, at 60 Station Avenue, will operate a distribution center for their Colonel Sanders Chicken products.

The council attached six stipulations to granting the permit, including proper landscaping and maintenance of the property; no noise or odors will go beyond the boundaries of the company; no washing of vehicles on the property, and a fence around the structure be replace.

Fear Serious College Delay If Bond Issues Rejected

Daniel E. Koshland, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to solve the Junior College Crisis in San Mateo County, today declared that unless the college proposals on the March 26 election ballot are approved, the new Skyline College in North County will not be able to open in 1969, as planned, and the new Canada College in South County will be severely restricted.

Koshland was joined by Carl E. Ward, president of the College District Board of Trustees, and U. S. Simonds Jr., clerk of the board, in confirming these facts, plus the fact that the College of San Mateo will be forced to cut back educational programs to a mediocre level.

Both the proposals have been endorsed by the Governmental Research Council, tax watchdog organization of the county, which declared in a resolution unanimously adopted that the college district has proven itself to have a sound financial policy that has provided two years of quality college education for more than 60 per cent of the high school graduates of San Mateo County.

Complete text of the satement by the three officials is as follows:

"The fate of an estimated two-thirds of all San Mateo County young people who seek a collegiate education—now and for the predictable future — hinges on the result of this San Mateo Junior College District election.

"For 11 years, your elected district trustees have been carefully and economically bringing to reality the Master Plan recommendations of a special 1956-57 'blue-ribbon' Citizens' Committee.

"This committee recognized the mounting importance of higher education for success in everyone's life and foresaw that many students elsewhere would be denied their collegiate opportunity because of overcrowded facilities.

"The committee recommended, therefore, that a 25-year district developmental program be undertaken to meet the growing junior college needs of the county, so that our young people might be guaranteed two years of tuition-free, quality collegiate education."

SM Insurance Pair Wins Top Honors

Jerold L. Clymo, 609 Newman Drive, South San Francisco, and John R. Sampson, 205 West Forty-first Avenue, San Mateo, have been nationally honored by being named to the President's Club for New Organization among the country-wide field force of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company.

They led the entire force in competition with men placed under contract at the time of their entrance into the business. In recognition of their performance they were invited to an intensive three-day educational conference at the company's home office in Philadelphia last week.

While in Philadelphia Clymo and Sampson were honored in special ceremonies by Charles R. Tyson, president of the company. They are with the Forrest J. Curry Agency of San Francisco, with local offices at 1849 Bayshore Boulevard, Burlingame.

$400 Taken By Bandits

Two holdup men, one of whom appeared to be "high" on drugs, robbed a clerk at the 7-11 Speede Market, 3375 East Bayshore Highway, in Redwood City shortly after 8 a.m. Monday, making off with $400 of the market's money.

The victim, Leo (Bill) Schreader, son of owner Leo D. Schreader, said the robber who appeared "high" slapped him a couple of times. After Schreader placed the money in a paper bag he was ordered to also place in the sack some mayonnaise, lunch meat and a can of soft drink which the robbers had selected from the stock.

Schreader was left lying on a storeroom floor, his hands tied behind his back when the robbers departed in a 1968 tan Pontiac GTO which the victim had seen the robbers get out of when they arrived at the store.

Swim Ashore After Boat Overturns

Two men aboard a capsized sailboat swam ashore at Thornton Beach in Daly City early last Wednesday, after drifting in rough seas more than four hours.

Police said Linton B. Harris, 29, of Sausalito, and Christopher Murray, 23, of San Francisco, swam ashore about 3 a.m. and flagged a passing motorist on Skyline Boulevard.

The motorist drove the men to the Daly City Police Station, and they were taken to Mary's Help Hospital for observation.

Police said the two sailors reported their 20-foot boat overturned near Seal Rock about 11 p.m., and they clung to the hull until it drifted within 200 yards of Thornton Beach.

Both men were released from the hospital after treatment for exposure.

Dog Leads To Arrest Of Suspect

The devotion of a mongrel dog led to Thursday's arrest of Roger Meidinger, the "hippie-surfer" suspect in San Francisco's "mad bomber" case, according to Pacifica police.

Inspectors Paul Averitt and Al Tebaldi went to Meidinger's Pedro Point shack on Monday "just to see how he was getting along."

"We saw his dog in front of the shack, and so assumed he was all right," Tebaldi said. "Believe it or not, we have actually been concerned about the guy, and have been driving by to see how he was getting along every week or two."

Meidinger had been living in the cabin of an abandoned boat in a deserted area of Pedro Point for several months, Averitt said.

On Tuesday, San Francisco police issued a description of the "mad bomber," and the Pacifica officers asked if there was any indication the suspect owned a dog.

A witness in San Francisco had reportedly observed a dog matching the description of Meidinger's small mongrel accompanying the "bomber" suspect as he fled from a mail box after depositing a stick of dynamite.

Meidinger was released Thursday on $2,500 bail.

The Hippie surfer was accompanied by Attorney Michael Stephanian when he surrendered to police Thursday afternoon. Meidinger was booked on a charge of malicious use of an explosive to "intimate, terrify or endanger any human being."

Dressed in a corduroy coat, soiled buttoned-down shirt and tie, Meidinger said nothing at his booking. He held a Bible close to his chest and smiled wanly.

Police said he has a history of drug arrests and emotional disturbances.

Stephanian said his client would plead innocent to the charge. The attorney added he would request an examination by court-appointed psychiatrist.

Three sticks of dynamite were found last weekend in private mailboxes. A fourth was in a post office sorting room. Each carried a note pleading for universal love and indicating "the gifts numbered nine."

But police were able to turn up only two additional sticks of dynamite.

One came from George Archer, a service station attendant who said he was given two sticks to place in mailboxes. Archer broke one open and flushed the powder down a toilet. He turned the second stick over to police with a description of the suspect.

One stick of the explosive was recovered from the mailbox at St. Agnes Church. It contained a note that read:

"Life is neither black nor white. There is too much death in this world of life. JFK was my brother. Malcolm X was my brother. We have power as these sticks of dynamite prove."

No detonator caps were attached to the dynamite so the sticks could not explode.

Police believe Meidinger obtained the dynamite from a quarry shed in Pacifica, not far from an isolated hilltop area near the Pacific Ocean where the suspect lived on occasion in a shack.

Police inspector William Sammon described Meidinger as a "hippie surfer." He said the suspect has been on probation for possession of marijuana, was later arrested for disturbing the peace and using dangerous drugs and had undergone psychiatric care at Mendocino State Hospital.

Candidates' Night Set

The Hillside Homeowners Association of Daly City will hold a "Meet the Candidates Night" March 18 at the Colma K-6 School, corner of Hillside Boulevard and East Market Street.

Starting at 7:30 p.m., the meeting will be open to all area voters, James W. Cranna, president of the association said today.

According to Cranna, all candidates in the upcoming April general elections will participate in the session.

"Voters will have an opportunity to hear the candidates views, ask questions and get better acquainted with them," Cranna said.

"Our members feel that votes determine our future and this is a precious privilege," he said, adding "I urge everyone to attend this meeting."

THE POST AUTO WORLD

The new California Special, designated the Mustang GT-CS has Cobra-like design features that include a racing spoiler, competition-type hood latches and air scoops on the side.

The Ford assembly plant in San Jose, which now produces Mustangs for the West Coast, is turning out the new model. The car will be sold only in the two California sales districts.

O. Fred Yando, Ford Division's western regional sales manager, in previewing the car to the press earlier last week, said the California Special Mustang will cost only $194 more than the regular Mustang two-door hardtop.

"The California districts account for about 20 per cent of all Mustang sales," Yando said, "so we felt it appropriate to have a model for this area that was inspired by our market.

"Mustang outsells its nearest competitor in the sporty compact market in California by two to one," Yando pointed out, "and our goal for 1968 is that Mustang will outsell all other sporty compacts combined."

The 1968 Shelby Cobra GT's influence on the new Mustang is apparent in the horizontal taillights and rectangular fog lamps.

Besides the racing spoiler, other distinguishing design highlights of the rear include a fiberglass deck lid with a dual stripe around the edge. The front end features a black-out grille without ornamentation and the push-and-turn hood locks.

Dealers will sell the California Special with any of the engine-transmission combinations in the regular Mustang line. Most regular Mustang options also will be available.

The unveiling of the newest Mustang in the Ford stable was highlighted by the appearance of models from Joseph Magnin, a leader in the state among women's fashions.

Chevrolet has developed a low cost transmission that provides effortless driving for the economy-minded buyer, E. M. Estes, general manager, announced recently.

Named "Torque-Drive," it eliminates the clutch pedal, offers comparable fuel economy to the regular three-speed manual transmission and has a list price of only $65, Estes said.

He declared the new two-speed torque converter transmission has "proven durability." Operation is by a shift lever on the steering column. A driver can start from a complete stop in either low or high gear and manually upshift or downshift.

"Torque-Drive is a Chevrolet exclusive among American auto makers," Estes told newsmen at the Chicago Auto Show where it is being introduced.

It is being offered on all Camaro and Chevy II Nova models with six-cylinder engines, he said. Manufacture has begun and first deliveries of Torque-Drive equipped cars will be in this month.

As noted early in "Auto World," the 39th annual convention of the Northern California Motor Car Dealers Association, Inc. is set for March 14-15, at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

Among those addressing the group will be Dr. W. Ballentine Henley, Provost of the School of Medicine, University of California at Irvine, noted as one of the top speakers in the General Motors Speakers Bureau.

Dr. Henley is a holder of numerous academic and honorary degrees; and the list of public positions he has held at all levels of government is imposing.

An accomplished world traveler and lecturer, Dr. Henley's subject is "The Challenge of Leadership."

Vet Exemptions To Rise in S.M. County

Inclusion of Vietnam war vets among those eligible for property tax exemptions is expected to cause a sharp increase in the number of exemptions granted in San Mateo County, Assessor Jack Estes said today.

Last year the State Legislature approved a measure making those who served on active duty after August 5, 1964 eligible for a $1,000 exemption on the assessed value of their property. Eligibility had been cut off previously after the Korean war, except for those with service-connected disabilities.

Veterans applying for exemptions should present proof of service and of ownership of property as of March 4.

Estes said 18,431 exemptions were granted last year, representing $16,408,150 in assessed value. The number of exemptions, the assessor said, has declined each year since immediately after Korea, when more than 30,000 vets had them.

To be eligible, a veteran is limited to $10,000 worth of community property or $5,000 if he is single. The applicant's worth is computed by adding the assessed value of real estate, the blue book value of cars and trucks, and the full cash value of savings and checking accounts, stocks and bonds and insurance policies.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the exemption department of the assessor's office in Redwood City.

$400 Stolen From Church

A money bag containing approximately $400 was stolen from a safe at Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church on El Camino Real in South San Francisco sometime after the morning services last Sunday, police said.

Authorities said church officials discovered the theft while checking receipts from last week's offering on Wednesday.

The safe was left open for a brief period after the Sunday morning service. Several other bags of money, containing hundreds of dollars, were left intact.

Property Sale Is Announced

Norris, Beggs & Simpson has announced completion of the sale of eighteen acres of industrial property on the east side of Old Bayshore Highway in Brisbane for their client, The Stauffer Chemical Company. The property is east of the Cow Palace and presently has available for lease a two-story 70,000 square foot building adjacent to rail transportation. The new owners of the property, Messrs.
